CHIEF FOR A DAY. Jim Howard, left, a Boy Scout in Troop 13, sponsored by St. Elizabeth School, learns about the use of a radar gun from Pontoon Beach Chief of Police Rosewell Bennett Jr. The radar gun is used by the village police to detect speeding motorists. The scout was taken on a routine police patrol by the real chief and was shown equipment in the squad cars and how it is used. Scouts in Pontoon Beach, Granite City and Madison took over the various offices Tuesday during the second annual Government Day program of the Cahokia Mound Council.

Private detectives' bills paid by deputies' group

Lieutenant Delbert Clemons of the Madison County Sheriff's Department testified in federal court at Alton on Tuesday that fund-raiser Leland Stoller of Nashville, Tenn., and Sheriff's Capt. John Cooper of Granite City operated a private detective agency in Granite City, with some of the expenses paid by the Madison County Deputy Sheriffs' Association.

Clemons, whose testimony came under close scrutiny later in the trial, testified that when he took over as treasurer of the now defunct association he discovered irregularities in the association's books — and payments which appeared to be for the 006 Detective Agency, which shared offices with the deputies' association over Rozyski Realty in Granite City.

He testified that third-party telephone bills from Cooper's home phone number to all parts of the country — charged to the deputies' association phone — were among those expenses. Other bills were for a tape recorder and for printed stationery for the 006 Detective Agency, the jury was told.

Clemons estimated that bills charged to the association for 006 totaled about $650. When he presented the bills to Stoller, Stoller reimbursed the association for the expenses and said he would collect from Cooper for the long-distance telephone calls, it was related at the trial.

Clemons also testified that when he took over as treasurer of the deputies' association in 1975, he got a financial report and discovered that "all the monies had not been accounted for from the last dance ... I got the records piecemeal from (the bookkeeper)."

He said most of the records came in a cardboard box, which he opened and studied. "I discovered a considerable amount of money had passed through the association's hands, and noticed checks had been made out to people I had never heard of," Clemons said.

He said the officers then asked Stoller for a meeting and "prepared a list of questions" for him about the financial transactions.

Clemons asked Stoller how the association members knew how much has been collected in cash, and were told that the copies of deposit slips given to the association office showed both cash and checks deposited.

"It occurred to me there wasn't very much cash being deposited," Clemons told the jury. He said that Cooper, who was the initial president of the association, was not an officer during 1973, 1974 and 1975 but was an adviser.

Michael Costello, attorney for Stoller, asked if Clemons recalled when Stoller was questioned about the expenses and agreed to revise the contract with him.

Costello said Stoller offered "a reverse arrangement," where Stoller would receive 25 percent of the profits while the deputies' association got 75

3-way mayor race

A three-way race for mayor of the City of Venice developed on the final filing day, at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, when James J. Reideberger filed his petition with City Clerk Lloyd H. Patterson. He filed 30 minutes before the official 5 p.m. ending of the filing period.

The other two candidates for mayor are Fourth Ward Alderman Tyrone Echols and businessman Milton Morris. Reideberger, a university instructor, is a son of the late Mayor Frank Reideberger Sr.

The April 17 election of a mayor will be for two years, filling the vacancy created by the Jan. 1 resignation of former Mayor William "Mike" Ebersold.

The candidates for mayor have until 5 p.m. next Tuesday to withdraw their names, but Patterson said no withdrawals are expected.

Those filing for four-year terms as aldermen in Venice are:

Ward One, Philip Daniels, the incumbent alderman and currently the acting mayor, John Mangiaracino and Earl Hogan.

Ward Two incumbent George Mangiaracino is unopposed, as is Alderman George Lewis of the Third Ward.

There is a four-way race in Ward Four: Sylvester Silas, Victor Valentine, David P. Barrett and James

The Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission this month announced a detailed "emergency energy assistance" program for persons unable to pay their utility bills of January-to-June 1978, but said it "will not be able to serve Illinois Power Co. customers." Ill. Power provides natural gas service here and in a wide area of the county.

MCEOC Executive Director Edward P. Schenk's ruling is expected to be challenged by the utility, which says it has encountered much less "red tape" in cooperating with the assistance program in St. Clair County and the Decatur area.

The role of the local administering agency is to determine qualifications of applicants for the up-to-$250 aid, and Ill. Power says it is supplying customers with all information they need to verify their eligibility.

In the belief that the volume of paper work sought by Schenk is vast, costly and unnecessary, the utility has declined to prepare forms for direct forwarding to the agency or to enter into an agreement with MCEOC.

Certification sites announced by Schenk include the Venice City Hall 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. weekdays; Coordinated Youth Services (1 to 6 p.m. Tuesday

Pageant here is 'best in Illinois'

The board of directors of the Illinois Junior Miss program announced this week that the Granite City Junior Miss Committee has been chosen as the "outstanding local Junior Miss program" in Illinois.

Chosen from among 20 communities, Miss Pam Tester, chairman and her committee were recognized for outstanding efforts and results in all areas of running a Junior Miss contest.

Areas of consideration were number of contestants, quality of the actual production, quantity of sponsors and scholarships, quality of publicity before and after the competition, paperwork follow-up, special activities for contestants, and care of contestants during the competition.

Illinois State Chairman Ron Rafter of Bolingbrook said, "This award is highly respected within the Junior Miss organization. It carries special meaning this year, as this was the Granite City Committee's first full year as an active committee."

"We are proud of the Granite City organization and its chairman, Miss

Pontoon buys land

By MICK STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer
A sales contract for $50,000 with Morris Realty Company to purchase nine acres of land was approved by the Pontoon Beach Village Board at its Tuesday evening meeting.

The land is located on the east side of Highway 111 and is about 600 feet north of Pontoon Road.

Village President David Moss said,

"I believe this is a good investment at this time."

"We have not given up the idea of a community center. We have made application to HUD (U.S. Housing and Urban Development Department) and the Community Development Agency for possible additional funds for a community center."

"I feel we do have a chance for the funds. We should know something in about 15 days."

"We also face the fact that we could lose our present building as our village hall. The building is tied up in court proceedings, and a new owner could mean higher rent or could just tell us to get out."

"This could happen in 90 days, or it may take the courts two years. You never know," Moss remarked.

A $1,000 payment was made as a deposit, with the balance due, pending a clear title, by March 30.

Funds to pay for the land will come from the general fund of the village, Moss said.

Arrest juvenile

A 15-year-old Granite City boy was arrested following a disturbance in the 2200 block of Cardinal Avenue early this week and was taken to the Madison County Juvenile Detention Home at Edwardsville.

Police alleged the boy appeared to be drunk and struck Larry Hoelter, 2216 Cardinal Ave., in the face with a fist. The boy's grandparents came to that address but were unable to settle the juvenile and police were called.

Officers alleged seeing the boy arguing with his grandparents, and force had to be used to arrest him, they reported. They also alleged finding a marijuana cigarette in his jacket pocket.

Juvenile charges of resisting police, battery and unlawful possession of marijuana were filed against him at the detention home.

Cars collide, man charged

Donald L. Valencia, 34, of 3 Charleston Court, was charged with resisting arrest and driving while intoxicated, following a minor traffic accident at 9:15 p.m. Thursday on St. Clair Avenue at Edgewood.

Police said an eastbound auto operated by Phillip L. Carnahan, 1233 Meridian Ave., was halted at a stop sign when Valencia's vehicle skidded on the icy pavement, striking the Carnahan auto in the rear.

After being placed in the squad car, Valencia allegedly pushed himself out of the car and refused to get back inside. He then slipped and fell down on the ice, refusing to get up, the report said.

Two other officers were summoned to assist in getting the man into the police vehicle.

While in custody at headquarters at 1 a.m. Friday, Valencia requested medical attention and was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Hospital authorities said the man had pain in the lower lip and left elbow and an abrasion on the back. He reported having been injured by the officers.

Valencia was treated and returned to jail. He was released from custody at 3:20 a.m. Friday on payment of $135 cash bond.

The Lighter Side

By CATHEY JAMISON

I've made a little list

What is it that makes you mad? I sat down and made a list of some of the things that make me want to spend a lot of days in bed. The list gets longer every year.

Losing weight makes me mad. I am too skinny and I'm losing three pounds every day. The list gets longer every year.

Trying to get my car out of a snowbank while some dumpy sits by watching me spin my wheels really makes me mad. It makes me really crazy if the dummy is a man who decides after ten minutes to rescue me, and does.

Having my husband come in during the last ten minutes of a good movie to tell me where he has been and what he has been doing for the last four hours sends me into fits. Missing mates to anything that comes in pairs drives me crazy.

Baking from scratch makes me insane. My mother used to bake everything that way. That made me mad, too. Anything I try to do from scratch turns out like baked cardboard.

Husbands who give you five minutes notice when they have to take the boss out to dinner and Mr. Big wants to meet the little Mrs. As far as I'm concerned, that's grounds for divorce.

Going to the beach and being the only female there who isn't in full makeup makes me crazy. I go to the beach to get to the water.

TV shows that end with "to be continued next week" make me want to reek havoc on the set.

People who don't return phone calls make me want to use the convenience as a weapon. I get really mad when I ask someone to call and they don't; makes me think that they haven't time for me.

Having to do things designated as "woman's work" makes me want to spit nails. My nine-year-old is good at begging off by saying, "But Mom, that's a girl's job."

Making lists of things that make me mad frustrates me. There just isn't enough room for such a list.

There is one thing that never makes me mad, and that is love. It is all of the loving things in life that make all of my lists unimportant. And it has been said that love makes the world go round.

I'll have to remember that the next time the checkout clerk in the grocery store closes her register just as I get finished stacking a hundred dollars worth of supplies on the counter.

Medium to speak

Ben Alexander, an authority on the dangers of witchcraft and the occult and a former British medium, will speak three evenings at the Pontoon Beach Church of Christ, 4039 Pontoon Road.

Alexander will present talks Saturday through Monday, March 3 to 5, at the church, with talks beginning at 7 each night.

Topics to be discussed are seances, spiritism, spiritism, ouija boards, tarot cards, trumps, ectoplasm and magic.

He also discusses Bible references on speaking to the dead, destiny, reincarnation, exorcism and other topics.

A former spiritualist, Alexander speaks about witchcraft and his experiences as a trance medium in London and how he came to reject the occult and accept God.

"I fully believe the spirit world can be contacted for two reasons," he said. "One, because of my experience over the past 22 years and, two, because the Bible emphatically says we can contact the spirit world."

After practicing the occult in England for 15 years, Alexander said he came to the U.S. in 1964 to start a spiritualist organization and instead found Christianity.

Alexander said 50 percent of the nation is involved in some form of the occult. "Rarely do you hear a voice in opposition," he said. "I am one."

He said he had found that 90 percent of spiritualists are "either fake or deceived by a subtle psychological interplay of minds; the other five percent actually contact the spirit world. I know, because I did."

"I am not of any denomination," says Alexander, who is not a U.S. citizen with residence in Portland, Ore. I live by one creed - the Bible. I believe only in what's written in the Bible, and nothing else. There is only one way to interpret the Bible - literally and in context. Many people use the Bible for their own purposes, reading it and quoting it out of context. They take from the Bible only what suits them."

He contended there are more than 200 references to spiritualism in the Bible. "It's about time we stopped watering down the gospel," he concluded.

percent but would have to pay all bills related to the solicitation for donations.

Under the original contract, Stoller got 75 percent, and had to pay all expenses incurred.

Clemons said the "reverse" contract idea was presented to the association's officers, but they rejected it.

Costello also emphasized that Stoller immediately repaid the bills for the 906 Detective Agency, when they were brought to his attention, and that he never objected to proposals that the books of the solicitation be audited by an outside auditor.

Clemons said that when the association first discussed fund-raising activities, Cooper suggested that Lee Stoller Enterprises, Inc., be hired. At one time, it was suggested a circus outfit be hired, but that never was checked in detail, jurors were told.

Another witness Tuesday, Boris Eliaff of Granite City, who operates AAA Bookkeeping Service, testified that Clemons and Deputy Marty Levault met with him and asked him if the association's books could be straightened out so the association could become a non-profit corporation again.

The Illinois attorney general's office had revoked the incorporation papers because the association had failed to file regular financial reports.

Eliaff said the deputies were unable to locate sufficient records, cancelled checks and other needed data for him to straighten out the books.

He said copies of the association's cancelled checks were requested from the First National Bank in Madison, but they wouldn't do it. Asked why the bank declined to supply the copies of the checks, Eliaff responded, "Ask the bank."

Clemons also was questioned about the records of the late Capt. Demos MacRiddle. Incumbent Alderman Oscar King did not file for re-election.

In Madison, two of the incumbent aldermen are unopposed: William Gushoff of Ward Two and Donald Garrett of Ward Five.

In Ward One, incumbent Paul Ashford is being opposed by Roy Jackson and Miguel "Mike" Garcia.

Six persons have filed in Ward Three to fill the vacancy created by the Nicholas and was asked what happened to his records when he died.

Clemons said someone told him to take the captain's belongings to his widow, but he could not recall who told him to do it.

He said he took two boxes of correspondence, books, family photos and other items to Mrs. Ruth Nicholas the day after the captain's death. The boxes already had been packed when he arrived to take them, Clemons added.

Other witnesses Tuesday included nine persons who gave donations to the deputies' association in 1974 and who identified their cancelled checks and other evidence to verify they made the donations.

Testifying they made donations which they thought would be for charity and association expenses were William Steans of Granite City, a cement contractor; George Metcalf of Edwardsville, a realtor and insurance man; David Uhring of Collinsville, who donated for K&K Concrete Products; John McGinness of Mitchell, who ran a Moto service station in Collinsville; Charles Cremer of Madison, operator of Charlie's Key Shop in Madison.

Also, Mrs. JoAnn Macios, Granite City, who works in the assessor's office; Irving Cassel of Bridgeton, Mo., who said he made a donation for his company's manufacturing plant in Godfrey; Henry Haarmann, a Collinsville blacksmith, and Doris Evans of Granite City, who operates the Doris L. Poodle Shop in Granite City.

All said they were not told the money might go to the sheriff or "into someone else's pocket."

'39 GC graduates plan reunion

A meeting was held this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jon Tarpoiff to discuss the 40-year reunion of the 1939 January and June graduating classes of Granite City High School. The reunion is scheduled for June 9 at Sunset Hills Country Club. Further details will be announced later, the arrangement committee advised.

All 1939 GCHS graduates are being asked to plan a member of the organizing committee to register their current addresses, so that an updated list may be compiled.

January graduates may call June Schill Sudholt, 452-7355, or Mary Jayne Clark Eli, 876-3212, after 6 p.m., or LaVerne Taylor Strotheide, 344-3242, at any time. June graduates may list addresses with Melba Theis Tarpoiff, 876-2824, Harriet Bowler Hoff, 876-4461, or Deloris Sheridan, 876-7288, the latter after 6 p.m.

MITCHELL BURGLARY
Thieves entered the home of Harold Morgan, 640 Margaret Ave., Mitchell, during the weekend and took a radio, television set, tools, camera, hair drier, glassware and jewelry with a total value of over $500.

STEREO, CB TAKEN
Assorted tools in a toolbox, valued at a total of $149, a set of snap-on tools worth $129, and a CB radio, an AM-FM stereo radio and an eight-track tape-player were stolen from the 1977 van of Carl Kittel, 2138 Edison Ave., the owner reported at 9:15 a.m. Wednesday. The vehicle, parked in the driveway at his home, was entered by prying open a vent window.

Daniels sworn in as Venice mayor

The first item of business at Tuesday evening's Venice City Council meeting was administering the oath of office, as acting mayor, by City Clerk Lloyd H. Patterson to Alderman Phillip Daniels.

After a series of deadlocked council meetings over the selection of an acting mayor, the issue was decided by drawing lots Saturday in Edwardsville following a Circuit Court order.

The council adopted an ordinance that prohibits parking on Lincoln Avenue, between Fourth Street and Broadway, and on both sides of Fourth Street, south of the intersection of Fourth Street and Broadway.

The January arrest report submitted by Chief of Police Ralph D. Brawley showed $360 in fines collected with a total of 19 arrests — nine adult and five juvenile.

McKinley Toll Bridge Manager Thomas Fields reported that traffic crossing the bridge in January 1979 was 273,594 vehicles, for a daily average of 8,825 vehicles, up 902 vehicles a day over the January 1978 average. A building permit was approved to allow John and Louise Zaler, 223 Weber St., to remodel their frame home. The permit had been approved by Gerald Cicio, building inspector.

The council instructed the clerk to file for a permit to allow the burning of tree limbs until July 1.

Due to the ice storms of Dec. 31, 1978, and Jan. 1, the Environmental Protection Agency has approved the burning of limbs in Madison County, provided cities make an application for a special permit, it was related.

A letter from Illinois Power Company explained procedures for handling such emergencies as ice storms. The chief of police has been given a private Illinois Power telephone number which may be used in cases of extreme emergencies.

Assertive training offered

A seven-week assertive training program will be offered by the Mental Health Clinic, Quad-City Center.

"Assertive training is a way of learning how to respond to people in an open, honest and direct manner, without infringing on the other person's rights or giving up one's own," a spokesman said.

"It can help people feel better about themselves by teaching them how to get ideas across to others.

"The group will focus on developing effective communication skills and increasing self-confidence. It is taught in a small, supportive group setting — a skills training group rather than group therapy.

The series will begin Tuesday, Feb. 20, at the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church, 1700 Pontoon Road. Meetings will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. Tuesdays through April 3. The fee is based on personal family income, with a maximum charge of $5. Those interested may contact Marjorie Barie or Charles DeGiacoia at 877-4420.

A discussion was held on a proposed ordinance that would make the village eligible for federal flood insurance. It was pointed out that the insurance would not cover normal seepage problems.

The ordinance, in compliance with the federal flood insurance program, if passed would prevent new building on flood-prone property and would offer protection from severe flooding — should a levee break or there be several days of heavy rain. The proposed ordinance was turned over to the legal department of the village for an opinion to be heard at the next board meeting.

the salary schedule of the police department, defining the term "civilian personnel" to mean an individual employed for 40 hours a week on a regular basis.

Working with representatives of Davis Associates, town consultants from St. Louis, the trustees began to work on codification of the 274 village ordinances.

The ordinances will be updated to conform to current state and federal statutes. In addition, they will be indexed and placed in a municipal code book divided into 29 chapters. As new ordinances are passed, they will be added to the code book, which will be available to the general public during normal working hours of the village clerk.

The code book, when printed, may not leave the village hall.

President Moss said the next several trustee meetings will be lengthy, as the trustees must review the ordinances and, from time to time, a vote will need to be taken to change any ordinances that are in effect and need to be updated.

It was estimated by Moss that an additional 28 to 30 hours will be spent on the codification process at the board meetings, in addition to the regular village business agenda.

Pam Tester, especially since Pam is a former Junior Miss.

Junior Miss is a nationwide scholarship program designed to recognize and reward high school senior girls through scholarship to college.

While in the form of pageant competition, it is not intended as a beauty pageant.

The judging standards include concern to select the "total girl" as Junior Miss.

Entrants are judged on youth fitness, 15 percent; poise and appearance, 15 percent; creative and performing arts, 20 percent; scholastic, 15 percent, and judges interview, 35 percent.

"Junior Miss Programs at all levels, local, state and national, are all non-profit organizations made up of all-volunteer workers.

"The Granite Cityans are no exception. They are all volunteers, and do it because they love the Junior Miss program and the things it stands for," Rafter concluded.

Anyone wishing to help with the upcoming 1980 program plans may contact Miss Pam Tester at 797-0475, it was noted.

State finalist

Michelle Jenness, 16, a sophomore at Granite City High School South, has been accepted as a finalist in the 1979 Illinois National Teen-Ager Pageant March 23, 24 and 25 at the Holiday Inn in Decatur.

Sue Jones of Pekin, the 1978 Illinois National Teen-Ager, will crown the new queen, who will advance to the national pageant to be held in Atlanta, Ga., in August.

Miss Jenness, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Jenness, 3251 Willow Ave., is being sponsored in the state competition by the American Heritage Bank.

She is active in student council and speech at South High and her hobbies include swimming, soccer, sewing, needlecraft and other craft projects.

There will be contestants from all over the state. Each will be requested to participate in volunteer community service programs.

A mini-modeling charm course will be given during the weekend of the pageant. Winner of the state contest will receive a $3,000 scholarship from Eureka (Ill.) College, along with a Contestants will be judged on scholastic achievement, leadership, poise-personality and beauty. There is no swimsuit or talent competition.

Doubt voiced on envelope

Sgt. Wesley "Bud" Kendall of the Madison County Sheriff's Department testified in the federal trial at Alton Wednesday that he does not believe an envelope of money was given to former sheriff John Maeras during an inspection of the Club J Tavern near Fairmount Place Track in the summer of 1972.

Kendall's testimony is opposite of testimony given to the jury Friday by Charlene Young, a former owner of the Club J who alleged she saw her husband give Maeras an envelope of payoff money during an inspection by Maeras.

Kendall, who is from Collinsville, testified Wednesday that he and Robert Rizzi of the sheriff's department went with the sheriff and Smith to inspect taverns along Collinsville Road suspected of housing prostitution.

He said they did not stay long and did not see anything exchanged, other than a drink.

Maeras and possibly former Assistant State's Attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith had a beer in the Club J, Kendall said, but he could not recall if they had to pay for the beer.

He also said he could not remember Charlene "Kitty" Young even being in the tavern during the inspection. Kendall said he had been with the sheriff's department since 1968 and had patrolled the State Park and Collinsville Road area for several years.

He testified he suspected prostitution in several establishments, including the Club J, the OK Cafe, M&M Steakhouse and Papa George's Fairmount Hotel — and "I had strong suspicions of several other taverns in that area."

He described Collinsville Road as "a rough area with eight or nine taverns. There were a lot of drugs, cuttings, beatings and homicides."

Asked why he did not act against the Club J, he said he frequently conducted surveillance of people coming and going from the tavern, occasionally stopped cars leaving the tavern for traffic offenses and, on a few occasions, sent other deputies and friends inside to attempt to "make a buy."

He said once he borrowed a tractor trailer and had two plainclothes deputies go in the Club J and attempt to be solicited for prostitution, but they were unable to make arrangements.

Another time, he gave two friends $20 for bar money to go in and attempt to make a connection with a prostitute, but they failed to do so and the sheriff's department would not reimburse Kendall's $20, the jury was told.

Attorney Bruce Cook, who is representing Maeras, brought out that an automatic weapon belonged to Kendall had been seized during a raid at the mobile home of Walter and Charlene Young behind Club J, in early 1971.

Cook contended Kendall had "inadvertently committed a felony in giving a Man sought in exposure case

As a 33-year-old Granite City woman was walking south in the 1900 block of Benton Street at 8:40 a.m. Wednesday, a car halted nearby and the driver asked her to come closer to the vehicle. When she complied, she saw the man inside was indecently exposing himself and she turned around and quickly walked away. The man again halted his car a short distance away near three young girls walking toward Emerson School. She yelled at the girls to run away, and they did. The man was 35 to 40 years old with short black hair. He was wearing blue jeans and a blue and white plaid shirt.

Fuel taxes distributed

Motor fuel tax funds paid into the state treasury during January have been allocated, according to the Illinois Department of Transportation.

The funds are distributed monthly to counties, townships and road districts and municipalities for their street and highway needs. The allocations are computed on the basis of population.

Of the $3,423,376 allocated to counties other than Cook County, Madison County's share was $132,258. Cook County received $3,135,839.

Townships and road districts in Illinois have been allocated a total of $2,977,848 of which those within Madison County have received a total of $36,520.

Municipalities receiving shares of the tax fund allocations include Granite City, $38,872, the highest amount paid to any one city in the county, with Alton receiving $36,960. The City of Madison received $6,556 as its portion and Venice was allocated $4,357 for January.

Shots fired, one near six sleeping children

Four shots were fired into the home of Jeanette Hoffman, 1226 Granite Ave., at 12:10 a.m. Tuesday, two shots passing on either side of the woman and a third traveling four feet above the heads of six sleeping children.

Mrs. Hoffman's 23-year-old sister and 21-year-old brother, both Madison residents, were visiting her at the time of the incident. All three were seated at the kitchen table when three of the shots were fired at a kitchen window on the west side of the dwelling.

One bullet came through the window, lodging in the opposite wall. A second bullet lodged two inches from the same window, but outside, and a third shot struck the house four inches from the glass on the opposite side of the window, went through the wall and ended in the wall on the east side of the kitchen.

A fourth shot traveled through the living room window on the west side of the house, and passed through a framed photograph and into a wall. Police said the shots fired into the living area went about four feet above the heads of six small children, ranging in age from two to six years old, who were sleeping in the room.

A six-month-old infant was sleeping on a bed behind the wall in which the spent bullet finally lodged. The kitchen curtains were closed, but silhouettes were visible from outside the dwelling, an investigating officer said.

The three adults crouched on the floor when the shooting began and failed to see the person firing the shots or a vehicle leave the area.

Mrs. Hoffman told officers her home in Madison was stolen from the rear seat of the station wagon of Lester Fudge, 1701 Edison Ave., at his home, he reported at 7:15 p.m. Tuesday.

STEAL BOX, TOOLS
A black toolbox containing assorted tools worth $350 was stolen from the rear seat of the station wagon of Lester Fudge, 1701 Edison Ave., at his home, he reported at 7:15 p.m. Tuesday.

Davis said he will get proposals from several collection agencies and a report back to the board at its Feb. 26 meeting. "I think the sooner they can get to work, the more they can collect," he said.

The supervisor said township residents will be given ample time to pay for the emergency ambulance service before their bills are turned over to the agency.

Davis said Granite City sends the resident three payment notices before it turns the bill over to the township. The township still sends another two letters to the resident.

Davis said the ambulance service contract with Granite City is not costing the township as much as expected. The township allocated $7,500 to cover unpaid ambulance bills in its last budget, but less than $5,000 of that money has been paid, with 11 months gone in the contract year.

Also at Monday's meeting, trustees approved entering Agency may collect for ambulance trips

By PETE STEHMAN

Nameoki Township officials are considering turning $4,500 in unpaid ambulance bills from township residents over to a private collection agency.

Since March 15, 1977, the township has had a contract with Granite City that requires the township to pay all ambulance bills from its area that remain unpaid to the city after 60 days. The township in effect must then take over the billing process itself.

Since last March, $4,500 in unpaid bills have accumulated. The thinking to township trustees is that a collection agency may be the most feasible way to get the money.

Nameoki Supervisor Harold Davis said that township could also consider filing a lawsuit to get the money, but Attorney Irvin Slate said that would probably prove impractical.

Slate said the township might end up filing suit against mostly transients and renters with little money to sue for.

The attorney recommended using a collection agency to get the money. "They're working on volume — they take the good with the bad," he said.

Davis said he will get proposals from several collection agencies and a report back to the board at its Feb. 26 meeting. "I think the sooner they can get to work, the more they can collect," he said.

Also at Monday's meeting, trustees approved entering into a contract with the City of Madison for installation of four fire hydrants in the Cloverleaf-East Madison area.

The hydrants will be installed by the Illinois-American Water Company and Nameoki Township will pay all costs and rental from 1979 federal revenue sharing funds.

Township trustees also agreed to serve as a certification site for the Madison County emergency energy assistance program. Through the county's Economic Opportunity Commission, low income residents in Madison County can apply for over $37,000 in funds to pay for heating bills from the winter of 1977-78.

All applications for assistance must be filed at the town hall by March 15. Acting on a request by Supervisor Davis, State Senator Sam Vadalaabene sent a letter to trustees announcing he will discuss legislation with township officials to prohibit city-township annexation.

Vadalaabene said the township should have its attorney draw up the proposed legislation, and added in the letter that he would be glad to discuss introducing the law in the state senate.

The township's interest in the legislation stems from Granite City's annexation of a possible industrial park near Highway Three from land which was previously in Nameoki and Chouteau townships. The townships opposed the annexation.

DAIRY COURSE TO START WEDNESDAY

A correspondence course on "Dairy Cattle Reproduction" for Madison County dairymen is being offered by the Madison County Extension Service Dairy Committee. Jim Beane, Godfrey, is chairman of the committee planning the program.

The correspondence course lasts for eight weeks and starts Wednesday, Feb. 14. Topics will include nutrition and reproductive performance, heat detection, record keeping, breeding dairy heifers, breeding problems and problems of pregnancy and calving.

Cement mason apprenticeship applications

Cement Masons Local 90, the Southern Illinois Builders Association and their Joint Apprenticeship Committee have announced that applications will be accepted between March 5 and April 6 for this cement mason apprenticeship. This is a three-year program.

Any person meeting the qualifications may make application with Cement Masons Local 90-Joint Apprenticeship Committee at 723 W. Main St., Belleville, each Monday through Friday, between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Applicants for apprenticeship must be between the ages of 18 and 25, have the core of pop music, and members of the award-winning "North Guard" flag and rifle squads will handle programs and seating.

At one point of the program, the Belles will abandon the tables and come forward for a "motion to music" presentation.

Theme for this year's musical presentations is based on "Broadway's Best."

The concert presented by the 105 members of North's

6th pop and pretzel Steeler band concert

The GCHS North Concert Band will present its annual pop and pretzel informal concert Monday evening, Feb. 19, at 8 o'clock in the North cafeteria. This annual presentation has played to standing-room-only audiences since its inception in 1973-74, when North High was formed.

With the members of the national award-winning "Steel City Belles" pom squad serving the tables, and members of the North Band Parents Association taking care of pretzels and soda and arrangements for the evening, the Band will provide the core of pop music, and members of the award-winning "North Guard" flag and rifle squads will handle programs and seating.

At one point of the program, the Belles will abandon the tables and come forward for a "motion to music" presentation.

Theme for this year's musical presentations is based on "Broadway's Best."

The concert presented by the 105 members of North's

Concert Band, under the direction of Robert D. Todoroff, will include "Curtain Up," arranged by Warren Barker; "Brass Brilliante," brass trio with band accompaniment, by Eric Osterling; selections from "The Wiz," arranged by Bob Lowden; "Jazz Waltz," by Robert Maltby; "Where It's At," by Cesar Giovanni.

"Ode to A Computer," by Ralph Hermann; "Puff, the Magic Dragon," featuring the tuba section, arranged by Robert Maltby; "Concerto for Prime Time," arranged by John Higgins; and "Broadway Spectacular," arranged by John Higgins.

Special percussion on the dance drums will be provided by Suzanne Norris, Robert Robles, Kent Owens and David Utley.

Admission for the concert is by season ticket, or $1 for adults or 50 cents for students.

Arrangements for the concert are under the auspices of the North Band Parents Association. Harold Stoker is president.

Hearing on Nameoki's fund share

Nameoki Township officials will meet tonight to accept suggestions on how the township should spend approximately $80,000 in Federal Revenue Sharing monies it will have available later this year.

Federal law requires that governments receiving the federal aid hold a public hearing to get input. Nameoki residents will have their chance at 7 tonight at the township hall, 4250 Illinois 162. Of the $80,000 the township has available, $20,000 remains in the present revenue sharing account and $60,000 in new funds is anticipated from the federal government.

French cooking meeting topic

French cooking was one of the items on the agenda of the Trio Unit Home Extension meeting held at Hope Lutheran Church last week.

Hostesses were Lucille Ethridge, Kitty Bloodworth and Marge O'Neal. Mrs. Margaret Gehling was inducted as a new member.

Guests included Esther Zimmer, Marie Baker and Marie Glover.

District Chairman Helen Miller announced that a membership drive will be held from March 1 through April 30 and that the group currently has 46 members.

Mrs. Miller spoke on French cooking and gave the 28 members in attendance copies of French recipes.

Prizes were won by June Luk, Helen Roessner and Ada Matras.

A white elephant sale will be discussed at the next meeting scheduled for 12:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 6, at the Hope Lutheran Church.

TAKES $100 COVER

A battery cover, valued at $100, was stolen from the trailer-truck of Earl Welford, 2321 Hodges Ave., he reported at 4:20 p.m. Monday. The truck was parked at 5th and August streets when the theft occurred.

Troopers enforcing law on hazardous cargo in trucks

Effective Feb. 1, the Illinois State Police began enforcement of the Illinois Hazardous Materials Transportation Act. This act, passed by the Illinois General Assembly, authorized adoption of all or any portion of the federal regulations applicable to transportation of hazardous materials on the highway.

Corporal Harold E. Dively, director of the State Police Hazardous Materials Section, says 30 specially-trained state police officers are being utilized in enforcement of this act.

The troopers have completed three weeks of intensive training at the Transportation Safety Institute in Oklahoma City.

Additionally, all are qualified as radiological defense officers.

Current plans call for training of 20 additional officers in order to have a total of 50 hazardous materials officers by Dec. 1, 1979.

The hazardous materials officers in the local (Maryville) district are Troopers Robert Whitmore of Alton, Charles Birk of Girard and Paul Stygar of Collinsville.

Key senator will watch university 'like a hawk'

By STATE SENATOR SAM M. VADALABENE
The adoption of the change in the governance structure of the SIUE system Feb. 8 has been a matter which I have been watching closely for some time.

As the future develops, I will continue to watch like a hawk every single action in Illinois and, most important, as it might affect the autonomy of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

From the first moments I entered the General Assembly, I have always fiercely fought for and guarded the gains made in the autonomy of this crucial institution in the district I serve.

At times, I even took legislative steps to secure the complete independence of SIUE. If necessary, I could resort to this expedient again.

In addition, I will carefully examine any new appointments, or reappointments, by the governor to the Board of Trustees to insure that they are fully cognizant of the desire of the university community and the citizens of the region it serves to keep SIUE sufficiently independent to fulfill its mission.

However, the present moment does not seem to be for hysteria or extreme measures. The days of ambitious empire building are over. There will be no "super" educational executives of any kind — the availability of budgeted funds simply would not permit it.

Let there be no doubt — as chairman of the Committee on Executive Appointments, as vice-chairman of Appropriations (which handles all higher education budgets), and as a member of the Higher Education Committee, any new executive who aspires to "super" status — or any visionary on the Board of Trustees with the same delusion — will have to deal with me. I simply won't allow this to happen.

There are two crucial elements to keep in mind. First, the board adopted with the change a set of controls put forth by President Kenneth A. Shaw that will keep matters under control.

The new governance structure will be subject to a review in five years. Secondly, the guiding principle in the change will be that any step in the direction of further centralization will have to be fully justified, thus placing the burden of proof on those making any changes.

Finally, the central administrative structure will have to live within the budget presently authorized by the legislature for board staff activities. There will not be excessive monies to build the kind of bureaucracy any "super" executive will need to flex any special muscles.

Most important, there are some very crucial immediate problems crying for our legislative attention:

A. We must immediately secure release of planning monies for the new multipurpose facility and go ahead with further appropriations on this building, regardless of what the governor and the Board of Higher Education set as priorities.

B. Legislation permitting the university to retain funds presently in the SWR and Athletic accounts — monies which have accrued from student fees and which can be put to good and pressing use.

C. Planning monies for a new facility for the School of Dental Medicine for the 1980-81 fiscal year must be appropriated.

If we are to achieve these vital goals for SIUE, we must not engage in idle legislative grandstanding.

Political interference in the governance process is a step that should be recognized not only as distasteful but dangerous. If necessary, I am prepared to take it.

As I said before, I will be watching the situation like a hawk. In the meantime, I would advise all concerned to stay cool and approach this problem in a fully professional manner.

WOODWARD DUE HERE. Bob Woodward, Washington Post investigative reporter and author of "All the President's Men" and "The Final Days," will speak at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Wednesday, Feb. 28, at 7:30 p.m. in Meridian Hall of the University Center. He will discuss his coverage of the Watergate scandal and the lessons to be learned from his experiences.

Funeral services were conducted Friday afternoon, Feb. 9, at the Faith Baptist Church in Wichita Falls, Tex., for Michael T. Obranovich, 53, of 2728 Devon, Wichita Falls, formerly of Granite City.

The Rev. Ted Savage officiated. Burial was in Crestview Memorial Park, Wichita Falls.

Mr. Obranovich was born March 1, 1925, in Granite City and graduated from Granite City High School. He was a retired home builder.

A member of the Catholic Church, he died of cancer at 9 p.m. Feb. 7 at a Wichita Falls hospital.

A resident of Wichita Falls for 25 years, Mr. Obranovich was a member of the American Legion and Disabled American Veterans there. He served with the Air Force during World War II.

Survivors includes his wife, Mrs. Lucille Obranovich; a son, Michael T. Obranovich Jr., of Dallas; his mother, Mrs. Ruby Obranovich of Granite City; and two brothers, John Obranovich of Madison, and Joe Obranovich of Gary, Ind.

Mrs. Corbin dies here

Mrs. Dorothy Alice (Bullerdick) Corbin, 56, of 400 English Place, Mitchell, died at 5:15 p.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

She was born in St. Louis and resided there until 1957 when she moved to the Quad-City area.

Mrs. Corbin served as a corporal with the U.S. Women's Corps during World War II. She was last employed as a secretary for two years at a federal agency in St. Louis.

Survivors includes her husband, Raymond D. Corbin Jr., two sons, Raymond D. Corbin Jr. and Richard D. Corbin, and one daughter, Miss Deborah K. Corbin, all of Granite City; her mother, Mrs. Alice J. Nagle of Overland, Mo.; three brothers, William C. Bullerdick, Florissant, Norman E. Bullerdick, Ferguson, and Arthur L. Nagle, Grand Prairie, Tex.; and one sister, Mrs. Charles (Shirley Ann) Sutton, St. Charles, Mo. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

SGT. CLARK RAY LEAVES FOR KOREA
Sgt. Clark S. Ray Jr., U.S. Air Force, a son of Mrs. Darlene Ray of Venice and Clark S. Ray Sr. of St. Louis, has been assigned to the 51st Equipment Maintenance Squadron at Osan Air Force Base in Korea. While Sgt. Ray is serving in Korea, his wife, Gloria, and daughter, Tiffany, will be residing with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willie C. Johnson Sr. of Venice.

Tax law changes

(Illinois State Bar Association)

Everchanging tax rules are often a source of confusion to the individual taxpayer. We are constantly dealing with yearly changes in tax rates, tax tables, deduction guides, and so forth.

In order to help with present and future tax planning, the Illinois State Bar Association offers the following examples of some income tax changes effective this year for 1978 taxes and next year when 1979 taxes will be due:

1. Standard deductions (now called zero bracket amounts) for 1978 are $2,300 for single persons, increasing to $2,300 in 1979; $2,300 for married persons filing jointly, increasing to $3,400 in 1979; and $1,600 for married persons filing separately, increasing to $1,700 in 1979.

2. Personal exemptions remain at $750 for 1978 taxes but will increase to $1,000 for 1979. The general per person tax credit of $35 will be in effect for 1978 but not for 1979.

3. Earned income credit base (low-income persons) will be $4,000 in 1978, increasing to $5,000 in 1979.

4. Gasoline tax deductions (non-business) will be allowable in 1978, but not in 1979.

5. Political contributions for 1978 can be taken either as a deduction or a credit. The maximum deduction is $100 ($200 on a joint return).

If you choose to take a credit, the credit equals half the contribution up to a maximum of $25 ($50 on a joint return).

For 1979, political contributions must be taken as a credit. The credit is half the contribution up to $50, or $100 on a joint return.

6. A new tax credit of up to $300 will be available to homeowners and renters who insulate, install storm windows, or use other energy saving devices. To qualify for the credit on your 1978 return, the energy saving measures must have been installed after April 19, 1977. The credit is available for principal residences only.

Tax relief in the form of a credit is an amount that is subtracted directly from the tax owed, while a deduction has the effect of reducing the taxable base.

When you have a choice, be sure you choose the method which will give you the maximum benefit.

BUY PLATES NOW AT BANKS, DIXON URGES
Deadline for display of 1979 calendar year plates, including multi-year plates for passenger cars and motorcycles, is midnight Wednesday, Feb. 28.

Secretary of State Alan J. Dixon is urging all Illinois motorists who have not purchased 1979 plates to buy them over the counter at local banks to avoid a last-minute rush just before the deadline. Mailed requests will be too late, he said.

Last year, more than 265,000 persons brought license plates at financial institutions the last two days before the deadline.

70-foot limit on tow width

Continued severe weather has resulted in increased ice buildup on lock walls at Locks No. 26, Alton and Locks No. 27, Granite City. As a result, a further width restriction on tows has been ordered.

All tows using Locks Nos. 26 and 27 are restricted to maximum width of 70 feet. This is to eliminate excessive obstruction of the locks and abnormal delays to vessel traffic in general.

It is anticipated that the restriction will remain in effect until favorable weather reduces the ice problems.

Tina Wilson marries Michael W. Holthaus

St. John United Church of Christ was the scene of the wedding on Jan. 20, of Miss Tina M. Wilson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wilson, 2536 E. 28th St., and Michael W. Holthaus, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Holthaus, 10165 Hausfel Court, St. Louis.

The Rev. James Mory officiated at the double ring ceremony in a candlelight setting at 6 o'clock in the evening. Organist Alan Myster played "The Wedding Song" and the Lord's Prayer.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, Miss Wilson wore a full length white Chantilly gown fashioned with a fitted bodice featuring a cameo inset of English netting accented with seed pearls, and long bishop style sleeves.

The bouffant skirt was designed with a double chapel train that terminated at the hemline with a ruffled flounce.

A Chantilly lace headpiece, etched with pearls, held in place her fingertip veil edged with matching lace.

Honor attendant Sandie Keck chose a formal length deep purple velvet dress trimmed at the neckline with white fur.

Bridesmaids Debbie Wilson, Vicki Wilson, Carla

Thomas and Dawn Wilson, cousins of the bride, selected the long velvet gowns in burgundy, blue and forest green, identically styled to match the maid of honor.

Nicole Greene and Matthew Wilson served as the flower girl and ringbearer. She was dressed in a deep blue velvet frock trimmed in white.

Attending the groom as best man was Gary Benson. Mark Holthaus, Robert Patterson, Pete Johnstone, Danny Wilson Jr., Tom Griffin and Lenard Gregory, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

After the service guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception held at the Croatian Home in Madison.

Members of the wedding party were entertained at a rehearsal dinner hosted at Charlie's Restaurant.

The couple are now residing in Cocoa, Fla.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Wilson chose a sea green chiffon gown created with ruffled flounce on the side of the dress which also encircled the hemline. She wore a matching chiffon capelet.

Mrs. Holthaus appeared in a white and green floral chiffon floor length dress designed with long straight sleeves and complemented with a chiffon cape.

AUGUST BRIDE-ELECT. Miss Charla Rainwater, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rainwater, 3055 Sinclair Ave., will marry Eldon Warfield in August.

JUNE BRIDE-TO-BE. Miss Kathy Kelahan, whose betrothal and approaching marriage to Matt Legate are being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Kelahan, 3349 Palm St.

(Lazebny Photo)

Kathy Kelahan to marry

The engagement and forthcoming marriage of Miss Kathy Kelahan and Matt Legate are being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Kelahan, 3349 Palm St. The prospective bridegroom, who lives at 4010 Braden Ave., is a son of James R. Legate, 2304 Willow Ave., and Mrs. Dorothy J. Ballentine, 1600

Third St., Madison. Plans are being made by the couple and their families for a June 22 wedding date. Miss Kelahan is a Granite City High School South graduate. She is employed as cashier at Spartan Gas. Her fiancé, also a graduate of Granite City High School South, is employed by Bulk Service Corp.

Keenagers potluck Tuesday

The Keenagers Senior Club is extending an invitation to persons of all ages to attend a potluck dinner at 12 noon Tuesday, Feb. 20, and hear a talk by a former missionary to Paraguay. The covered dish meal and program will take place in Fellowship Hall at Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road. Those wishing to attend are to call 876-0532 for reservations before 12 noon Saturday, and to prepare a covered dish food item to bring. The guest speaker, Frisco Gilchrist, has served in Paraguay as a missionary for 24 years, prior to government interference with foreign missionaries, forcing them to leave that country. Presently, he is living in St. Louis and awaiting reassignment. His topic will be "Human rights as they pertain to Paraguay."

DRUGS, GUN TAKEN

Prescription drugs and a shotgun were reported stolen to the Madison County sheriff's department at 4:40 p.m. Saturday by Mrs. Bernice Norton, 284 Sunny Shores Mobile Home Park, Chain of Rocks Road. Value of the items taken is $241. Thieves forced a door on the home to gain entry.

Future Secretaries study employment interviews

About 35 members of Madison High School Future Secretaries Association learned the "do's" and "don'ts" for making a good impression when interviewing for a job, and for being able to hold the job and being a good co-worker and employee, as they listened to their speakers at their monthly meeting held at the high school on Tuesday.

Speaking from a management's point of view were Alicia Hughes, Employment Security Manpower Specialist III, with Job Service (Illinois Department of Labor), and Al Kerth, Professional Recruiting and Public Affairs Coordinator, First National Bank in St. Louis. Speaking from the executive secretary viewpoint was Mrs. Charles Lunovic, a member of Tri-Cities Chapter, National Secretaries Association, which sponsors the Madison FSA chapter.

Agreeing on the importance of "first impressions" and dressing correctly for the job interview, also knowing what job was desired, being prepared to spend sufficient time being tested and interviewed, and showing an interest in the company and its policies, both Miss Hughes and Kerth stressed that the attitude and impression which comes across in the first five minutes was often a lasting one.

Both speakers described their jobs, and the duties connected with them. As part of his job Kerth keeps up with the trend in advertising for help, and commented that among the top four categories were jobs calling for secretaries, nurses, accountants, and data processing people. A discussion regarding the necessity for college education took place, and it was agreed that it really depended on the specific job an individual wanted. In many cases experience on the job was just as valuable as further education.

To summarize their thoughts on job interviews, Miss Hughes and Kerth stressed the necessity for being pleasant, smiling, courteous, knowing what you are going to the employment office for, having some idea of what you want, and writing down any information and taking it with you to the interview if it may be difficult to remember at the time of the actual interview.

Mrs. Vunovic's role on the panel was to describe the traits for a perfect boss, or co-worker. High on the list was the possession of a sense of humor. Other important attributes included sensitivity, consideration and understanding for others, ability to communicate clearly, patience, showing appreciation, being supportive of one another, being complimentary if a job has been done well, keeping the secretary informed of his plans, and where he will be when he leaves the office, making all his own phone calls and admitting when the mistake was his and not the secretary's.

FSA President Tammy Lynn presided at the meeting, and called for reports from recording secretary Donna Crook, corresponding secretary Debbie Sutt, and treasurer Sharon DeLoach. Vice-President Cheryl Finch served as program chairman and introduced Mrs. Vunovic, the panel moderator. The treasurer reminded the members that some still needed to turn in money from their candy sales. The next meeting would be held on Tuesday, March 13, President Lynn added.

Mr., Mrs. Jessie Rhodes mark 50th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Rhodes, 1020 College Ave., West Madison, observed their golden wedding anniversary by renewing their marriage vows in a service Sunday at the Friendship Baptist Church.

Following the church ceremony the honorees received 75 relatives and friends at a dinner party held in the church Fellowship Hall.

Mr. Rhodes and his wife, the former Lucy Hilton, were married on Feb. 9, 1929, in Greenwood, Miss., and have resided in the Quad-City area since 1948.

Mr. Rhodes was employed at the American Steel Foundries from 1948 until his retirement in 1971. His wife retired in 1975 from the Madison School District where she worked as a cafeteria employee at Blair School for four years.

Mrs. Rhodes is an active member of the Madison Unit Homemakers Extension Association. Both Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes are members of the Friendship Baptist Church and active in various church organizations.

They are the parents of one daughter, Mrs. Jessie M. Petty of Junction City, Kan., and have three grandchildren, Cheryl Petty, 21, Henry Petty Jr., 19 and Darren Earl, 13, all of Junction City.

Among the guests attending were two brothers of Mr. Rhodes, Ben Rhodes of Clarkdale, Miss., and Fred Rhodes of Memphis, Tenn.

GRABS PURSE ON MADISON AVENUE
A purse-snatching occurred at 7:50 p.m. Monday when Jacqueline Rankin of the 2900 block of Washington Avenue was walking south in the 2600 block of Madison Avenue.

A young man walked up behind her, quickly grabbed the beige purse and fled through a vacant lot toward Iowa Street. He was in his teens and wore a blue jacket. Among items in the purse was $10 in currency.

Royal Ranger awards night

Royal Rangers of Outpost 73, Tri-City Park Tabernacle, held the annual Father and Son night and Ranger of the Year awards ceremony last week in the church fellowship hall.

On the agenda for the evening was a nature film, two cartoons, refreshments, a game and the presentation of trophies.

Senior Commander Walt Jordan gave a short talk, extending his appreciation for the job all of his leaders have done. As he introduced each commander, they in turn recognized and presented the trophies to their top three boys. The boys compile points earned on each meeting night and they are evaluated at the end of the year.

Senior Commander Jordan started with the oldest group, the Trail Rangers, (ages 15-17). Commander Jerry Meyenburg gave first to Monte Naler, second to Tim Free and third to Steve Naler. Trailblazers (ages 12-14) Commander Jim Black and Lieutenant Commander Ed Boone presented first to Tim Black, second to John Maue, and third to Darryl Long.

Pioneers (ages 9-11) Commander Jerry Frey, Lieutenant Commanders Carlos Jordan, Jerry Freeman, and Junior Commander Monte Naler gave first to Daryl Meyenburg, second to Phillip Jordan, and third to Jeff Freeman.

Buckaroos (ages 7-8) Commander Meyenburg and Junior Commander Tim Free gave first to Tim Hutchinson, second to Alan Lenz, and third to Chris Gann. Straitarrows (ages 5-

6) Commander Fred Epperson gave first to Todd Hutchison, second to Terrance Gann and third to Todd Howerger.

Lieutenant Commander Freeman gave recognition to the leaders earning an award of a position on the sectional or district staff, beginning with Jim Black who received the annual Traveling Leaders Update Down Trophy earned from the float trip. Jerry Frey was re-elected secretary-treasurer for the Metro-South section.

Walt Jordan was recognized for taking over senior commander of the outpost and being appointed sectional FCF co-ordinator, and Jerry Meyenburg was recognized for being appointed district scribe for the frontiersman camping fraternity and qualifying for commander of the year for the third year in a row.

It was announced that the outpost annual fund-raising chili day will be held in the church fellowship hall Feb. 24 from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. featuring chili, all you can eat, for a small fee. The project also represents a ticket sales contest for the boys. Tickets are on sale now, and can be purchased from any of the Ranger boys. Tickets should be bought before Feb. 24 to help the Rangers win a savings bond, a leader said.

Grand jury will study shooting

A Madison County grand jury is to meet tomorrow in Edwardsville to study circumstances surrounding the fatal shooting and beating of Frederick J. LaCiere, 32, of 6 Roxbury Court, the morning of Jan. 25 on the parking lot of Parkside Food Shop, 3202 Maryville Road.

A 28-year-old Granite City man arrested at the scene was released by police on the orders of Assistant Madison County State's Attorney Bob Trone, pending grand jury consideration of the case. Officers alleged the young man admitted shooting and beating Mr. LaCiere as the result of a disagreement over a woman. Trone declined to say why he ordered the young man released, except to say, "There are extenuating circumstances in this case you don't know about."

State Park cafe murderer to die

Eugene Amos Walker Jr., 22, of Cahokia, was sentenced to death Friday for the murder of Mrs. Elsie Wallace, 53, of State Park Place, during an armed robbery last May 20 at the State Park Cafe, near Collinsville, in which four other persons, including a Quad-Cityan, were wounded.

Associate Circuit Judge Kenneth Juen set the execution for May 9, but then issued an order staying the electrocution order to allow time for an automatic appeal to the Illinois Supreme Court.

Walker also was sentenced to a total of 33 years in prison for seven other crimes related to the robbery.

DECEPTIVE SALES
Attorney General William J. Scott last week filed a consumer lawsuit against a magazine subscription firm which he said trains its sales people to misrepresent themselves as disabled veterans. The suit asks the court to stop the firm's operations in Illinois and to assess a $50,000 civil penalty for each violation of the Consumer Fraud and Deceptive Business Practices Act.

John 21: "And if any man sin, we have one who advocates with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous."

This first episode of John is one of the most enlightening books in the Bible. John says: "And if any man sin... as though there could be doubt, the scripture clearly states all have sinned and if any man says he has not sinned he is a liar."

You can be thankful to God that along with the knowledge that we are sinners, He also shows us a way out of sin! Christ said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life and no man cometh to the Father but by me."

John says simply Christ is our advocate who actually means a cloak, veil, a covering.

Praise the Lord! He is our covering for sin! The only covering for all sin.

Will you be covered? Today.

Most of the state's 'increased' aid already allocated—schools

"The thousands of men and women serving on school boards across Illinois are distressed with Governor James Thompson's 1980 budget for the public schools," Jonathan T. Howe, president of the Illinois Association of School Boards, is emphasizing.

Howe is a member of the school board in Northbrook

Elementary School District 27. Thompson announced this month that he is recommending $81 million in new money for schools. Howe said, "That $81 million sounds like a great deal of money, but it isn't when you consider that it costs more than $4 billion a year to operate the 4,500 schools in Illinois and to educate more than two million youngsters." The governor's proposal, Howe said, is less than half the $171 million recommended by the State Board of Education.

"We felt the State Board made a realistic and affordable proposal, considering the current rate of inflation and the predicted decrease in enrollment," Howe said.

"Assuming a normal rate of growth in local property tax collections, the State Board's proposal would have enabled most school districts to keep pace with inflation. Under the governor's proposal, however, few schools will survive without closing schools, further cuts in staff, or increases in property taxes."

Howe said the $81 million proposed by Thompson represents an increase of less than two percent in total school spending for the current year. He noted that most of the $81 million must go for teacher retirement ($27 million) and new programs for handicapped children ($30 million). The latter are required by new state and federal laws.

"That leaves $24 million to help absorb the impact of inflation on a $4 billion enterprise," Howe said. "That is an increase of about one-half of one percent in school operating funds. Schools cannot operate on that when we're still confronted with inflation ranging from seven to nine percent a year."

State's 80,000 registered nurses cite changing needs

Citing the "unique and important role of nurses in our modern society," Governor James R. Thompson has proclaimed March 11-17 Illinois Nurses' Week.

The annual week-long celebration honoring the state's 80,000 registered nurses is sponsored by the Illinois Nurses' Association.

Using the theme "Nursing Changing to Meet Society's Needs," INA district organizations across the state will conduct special activities emphasizing the continuing contributions of the nursing profession, and calling public attention to "the essential and varied roles nurses play in providing quality health care for all citizens."

"Modern nurses are highly skilled, well-educated professionals working in many settings and capacities," Thompson said. "Through their professional organization, Illinois nurses work together to promote passage of health care legislation, to improve standards of nursing education and patient care, and to recruit more nurses into the profession."

This is the 20th consecutive year that the INA has sponsored Illinois Nurses' Week.

7 from GC in concert

The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville School of Fine Arts and Communications will present the Symphonic Band in concert, Sunday, Feb. 18 at 3:30 p.m. in the Communications Building theater.

Conductor for the performance will be Marcia Ann La Reau, visiting lecturer in the department of music at SIUE.

Edward Elgar's "Enigma Variations, Opus 36" will be featured in the afternoon program. Other arrangements will include Vittorio Giannini's "Symphony No. 3 for Band" and Dmitri Kabalevsky's "Colas Breugnot Overture."

Following an intermission, the band will perform Carl Simpson's "Homage to Ralph Vaughan Williams" and Erik Satie's "Two Gymnopédies for Flute Section."

The concert is open to the public at no charge.

Members of the Symphonic Band from Granite City are:

Patricia Gerlach (flute), Beth Potillo (flute), Karen Schneider (clarinet), Becky McCommis (bassoon), Robin Robertson (bassoon), Robert Springer (alto saxophone), and Thomas Bull (trombone).

MRS. LAHR SPEAKS ON READING NEEDS

Mrs. Ruth Lahr of the Granite City schools was among 26 educators who made presentations during the Illinois Office of Education's second annual regional Right to Read Conference held last week at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

The conference was attended by more than 400 teachers, counselors, school administrators and representatives of the IOE. It was aimed at providing a forum for exchange of ideas and information by those present. Keynote speaker for the two-day program was Robert Hardy, director of the Illinois Title I program. (Instructional programs for educationally disadvantaged children.)

Robyn Cionko wins trophy

Robyn Cionko, a senior Distributive Education student at Granite City High School, South, has won the third-place trophy in Food Marketing of the Area II Distributive Education Contest held at Fischer's Restaurant in Belleville.

Area tests were in advertising, apparel and accessories, finance and credit, food, marketing, general merchandise and food service. Students competed in one of those areas according to their training station in the Distributive Education Vocational Training Program.

Lifetime Learning courses

The Metro Extension Institute of Lifetime Learning will offer 30 courses at various locations throughout this region for senior citizens.

Anyone 55 years of age or older who enjoys learning and interaction with other older adults is eligible to register for the classes, according to Clyde Fisher, program chairman for the Institute and assistant director of SIUE Off-Campus Programs.

The programs are developed and conducted as an inter-institutional cooperative venture by the department of continuing education at SIUE, Belleville Area College, Lewis and Clark Community College in Godfrey and State Community College in East St. Louis, as well as regional chapters of the American Association of Retired Persons.

Courses are short-term and involve no examinations, Fisher said. However, participants will receive certificates for the completion of each course. Most classes begin in late February or early March. Courses and their locations include:

A class in creative historical writing will be offered at "The Well" on Cottonwood Road in Glen Carbon beginning March 20. Classes will meet Tuesdays from 1 until 3 p.m. Registration for the eight-week course is $1.

A six-week course on transactional analysis and a five-week course in home energy conservation will be offered at the Tri-City Area YMCA located at 2001 Edison Ave. Director is Paul Grenell.

Classes for transactional analysis will meet Thursdays from 1 until 2:30 p.m., beginning March 8. Registration is $1.

Home energy conservation classes at the local "Y" will meet Tuesdays from 1 until 2:30 p.m., beginning March 6. The fee is $1.

FIRE PREVENTION AWARD TO ICG ENIT
The Illinois Central Gulf Railroad's St. Louis Division — which stretches from here to Jackson, Tenn., across Southern Illinois to the Wabash River — has won the railroad's fire prevention plaque for 1978.

ICG is an IC Industries company. The St. Louis Division will receive the plaque at ceremonies today in Carbondale. The division's headquarters are at Carbondale.

Trustees cite internal conflict

"A new structure of governance has been adopted by the Southern Illinois University System," is the way the SIU board describes its controversial decision of last week.

Effective Feb. 8, James M. Brown of Carbondale, formerly general secretary of the Board of Trustees staff, became acting chancellor—the new chief executive officer of the System—and machinery was created to launch a nationwide search for a new system head, a spokesman said.

The system's two presidents—Kenneth A. Shaw of SIUE and Warren Brandt of SIUC—will continue as the chief executive officers of the respective universities, reporting to the chancellor, who then will report directly to the Board of Trustees.

The governance changes were approved by the board in response to recommendations by the board's Ad Hoc Committee on Governance, chaired by Trustee William R. Norwood, it was asserted, although the time interval between the report and the vote was almost nonexistent.

In the committee's report and recommendations to the board, the committee cited "number of weaknesses" in the former system, which it said was headed by the System Council, composed of the presidents and the general secretary of the board staff, each reporting directly to the Board of Trustees. Chairman Norwood said the committee reached the following conclusions:

"1. The committee firmly believes that the autonomy and diversity of the separate universities will not be compromised by a properly constituted system executive function to accommodate more effective decision-making on the system level and a more efficient functioning of the Board of Trustees."

"2. The committee believes that the system needs to speak with a single voice externally, particularly to the governor, the General Assembly and the Board of Higher Education. The challenges which lie ahead for SIU and for all of public higher education in the next decade will, the committee believes, require that SIU speak with one authoritative voice."

"3. The committee believes that the current structure encourages, or at least perpetuates, internal conflict between executive officers with equal authority, and that the creation of a single executive with authority and responsibility in the areas of system leadership, coordination and planning will allow the system to make best use of limited resources."

"4. The committee believes that the creation of a single executive with authority and responsibility in the areas of system leadership, coordination and planning will allow the system to make best use of limited resources."

"5. The committee's recommendations for reorganization of the governance structure were approved by the board here Feb. 8, along with three amendments recommended by President Shaw. The recommendations of the committee were:

"1. That the board create the position of chancellor of the Southern Illinois University System. The chancellor will serve as the chief executive officer of the system, reporting directly to the board and will be the primary link between the board's responsibilities for policy and the presidents' responsibilities for operations. Other responsibilities will be specified by the board."

"2. That the board abolish the position of general secretary of the Southern Illinois University System and that the authority and responsibilities vested in the general secretary be transferred to the chancellor."

"3. That the board abolish the System Council and that System Council functions will be performed in a manner to be determined by the chancellor."

"4. That presidents remain as chief executive officers of the respective universities, reporting directly to the chancellor and through that officer to the board."

"5. That the chancellor be supported in the discharge of his or her duties by a professional staff, none of whom will have direct operational responsibilities at either university. The committee does not anticipate the creation of a large professional staff assigned centrally."

"6. That the chancellor will be primarily responsible for the development of appropriate system goals, policies, administrative structures and operating procedures in the areas of academic affairs, financial affairs, general administration, external relations, and legal affairs."

"7. That the chancellor will be guided in the development of such organization and procedures by the board's firm commitment to a high degree of academic and operational autonomy for Southern Illinois University at Carbondale and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville consistent with the concept of the university system."

"8. That the board acting as a committee of the whole undertake a national search for a chancellor. The board will be assisted in the search and selection process by a group composed of students, faculty, staff and alumni."

"9. That the board name an acting chancellor to serve in that position until such time as a permanent chancellor assumes his or her duties. The current board staff will serve as the interim staff of the Office of the Chancellor and also as the support staff for the board pending further determination of responsibilities of the Office of the Chancellor and the Office of the Board of Trustees."

"10. Salary and perquisites for the presidents will remain unchanged. The board will review all senior administrative salaries before July 1, 1979."

The recommendations recommended by Dr. Shaw and accepted by the board provide for a review of the governance structure in five years, assurance that the "spirit of the board" is to move toward decentralization rather than centralization, and a restriction on the budget for the new governance structure, stipulating that the budget will not exceed the amount currently authorized for the board staff."

The committee recommendations and amendments were implemented by board approval, with 11 trustees except Stephen Huel, student trustee from SIUE, voting for the resolution.

Acting Chancellor Brown said at a news conference that he does not anticipate any major policy changes during the interim.

Sorority's Valentine dance Saturday

Fidelity Class discusses
Feb. 23-25 lay mission

The 1978 Sweetheart Court will be presented at the Beta Sigma Phi sorority's traditional St. Valentine's dinner dance, scheduled Saturday at the Lewis and Clark Restaurant ballroom in East Alton.

The event is sponsored annually by the sorority's City Council and is open to the public.

Proceeds are designated for various charitable endeavors, according to Barbara Hente, Sorority City Council president.

Tickets for the dinner dance are available from any sorority member at a cost of $15 per couple, or $5 per couple for the dance only. Mrs. Hente said.

Cocktails will be served from 4:30 p.m. to 7:45 p.m. Music for dancing will start at 9 p.m. and will continue until 1 a.m.

Mrs. Hente, at 797-6817, or May Ebling, 876-2693, may be contacted for tickets. City Clerk Robert W. Stevens of Granite City will be master-of-ceremonies for the court presentation.

Each member of the court has been selected for the honor by her individual chapter as its representative.

A brief resume of the "sweethearts" being honored this year follows:

Pam Doctor, Theta Theta's sweetheart representative, taught second grade classes in the Granite City School District before becoming the mother of a five-month-old daughter.

She is a graduate of Eastern Illinois University at Charleston and a member of St. John United Church of Christ and LaLeche League.

Mrs. Doctor has served as corresponding secretary and on the program and service committees for Theta Theta. She enjoys antiquing, needlepoint and tennis.

Her escort at the valentine gala will be her husband, Monty Doctor, director of general services for MacIair Asphalt Co., Collinsville.

Carol Moerlein will represent Nu Zeta Chapter at the sweetheart dinner dance. She will be escorted by Norman Moerlein, her husband of 28 years.

The immediate past president of Nu Zeta, Mrs. Moerlein also has served as program and social chairman and as extension officer. She also was appointed as representative and alternate to the sorority's City Council.

Mrs. Moerlein has been named a valentine sweetheart in a previous year and also "girl of the year" by her chapter.

She was active in Cub Scouts, serving as a den mother, as secretary of the McKinley School PTA and in her church as drama director and Sunday school teacher for 12- and 13-year-olds.

Mrs. Moerlein is employed as a service officer with Illinois Bell. Her husband is a Granite City Steel supervisor.

The Moerlins have three children, 21, 20 and 17 years of age.

Her hobbies are sewing, art and reading.

Pi Eta Chapter has chosen Janice Noland as its 1979 valentine sweetheart.

She is married to Edward Noland, a steelworker foreman, who will serve as her escort to the annual dinner dance.

The Noland's have a nine-month-old infant.

A graduate of Granite City High School South, Mrs. Noland is working toward a library technician degree at Lewis and Clark Community College.

She is a library assistant. Mrs. Noland has been named a "sunshine girl" by the chapter and has served as its program chairman.

Her other interests focus on camping, swimming and reading.

The valentine sweetheart of Precursor Beta Gamma Chapter is Norma Rains, a past president of the sorority's City Council for two terms who also served as its treasurer and corresponding secretary and member of the convention committee.

She also held the chapter offices of president, secretary and corresponding secretary; has headed most committees, including ways and means and yearbook; and has been honored as "girl of the year," "order of the rose" and in the ritual of jewels and preceptor ceremony.

Mrs. Rains is employed part-time as a Mary Kay beauty consultant and full-time as a homemaker. She and her husband, Lewis E. Rains, a member of the administrative staff of Sverdrup and Associates, St. Louis, have two children, Steve, 30, and Linda, 28.

Her hobbies are needlework, reading and ceramics. She also is treasurer of Nameoki United Methodist Church and is active with Church Women United.

Her husband will escort the Precursor Beta Gamma honoree.

Xi Epelon Chi Chapter has selected Joan Pritchard as its sweetheart representative.

She has served as chapter president, as vice-president twice and as corresponding secretary, also on two occasions.

Additionally, Miss Pritchard previously was named "girl of the year" and has been elected vice-president and corresponding secretary of the sorority's City Council.

She graduated from high school in 1962 and is employed as a piece goods controller.

Her hobbies include sewing, knitting, crocheting and "collecting mushroom items."

Miss Pritchard's escort to the dinner dance will be Bill Arnold.

The Fidelity Class of the Nameoki United Methodist Church held its monthly meeting during the weekend, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Erney and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bailey.

The meeting was preceded by a pot luck dinner, and opening prayer was given by Burl Russell, the class teacher.

The business session was conducted by President Lewis Rains and a devotion was given by Tharah Erney. It was announced that the church's lay witness mission will be held Feb. 23-25.

Members attending were:

Pauline Canham, Ross Nightwine, Vivian Wolfe, Virgie Barks, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Rains, Mr. and Mrs. Rod Key, Mr. and Mrs. Bertie, Mr. and Mrs. George Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Haley.

Next meeting of the class will be March 10. Hosts and hostesses will be Mr. and Mrs. Russell and Mr. and Mrs. Haley.

GOP women review convention

After cancellation due to ice problems in January, the Granite City Republican Women's Club braved February cold for a round-table discussion over dinner at the Grand Cafe. Louise Dutko, president, welcomed members and guests.

Roy Lynn offered prayer, and Edna Lynn led the pledge to the flag. Reports were made by Gladys Pape, Eva Meier, Vernice Waller, Bethel Davis and Elna Hoover. Ruth Lucas reported that a plant was sent to Lillie Ann Firner, hospitalized for over five weeks.

President Dutko gave a summary of the proceedings of the Illinois Federation Republican Women convention held in Chicago. Brenda Reese led a question and answer session on federal, state and local key issues. All present participated in the discussion. She listed the following dates: spring conference, March 29 in Decatur; legislative seminar, May 8 and 9 in Springfield; and National Federation of Republican Women, Sept. 27 and 28 in Indianapolis. Copies of bylaws and state and national publications were distributed.

CUT IN CAR CRASH

Gary Kiselka, 22, of 2308 Miracle Ave., suffered a cut to his left eyebrow in an auto accident early this week and was treated, sutured and released from St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Deborah Kacera in Miss Teen pageant

Miss Deborah Kacera, 15, daughter of Richard and Johanna Kacera, will be representing Granite City in the 1979 Illinois Miss Teen-USA pageant to be held in Oakbrook on June 29 and 30 and July 1.

A sophomore at Granite City High School South, Miss Kacera has hobbies including reading, sports, playing music and collecting pennies.

She is being sponsored by Madison County Federal Savings and Loan, 3600 Nameoki Road.

The state pageant will include judging in such areas as scholastic and civic achievements, beauty, poise and personality. Contestants may choose to give either a two-minute speech on "My favorite patriot" or a two-minute patriotic talent presentation.

All entrants will be between the ages of 14 to 18 and must have maintained a "B" average in school.

Contestants are requested to volunteer at least 12 hours of time to worthwhile charity or civic work.

The National Miss Teen-USA pageant will be held in Albuquerque, New Mexico, in November.

Scholarships, theater party are HT topics

Mrs. George Marshman entertained members of Chapter HT Monday afternoon. During the business session conducted by the president, Mrs. Carl Mathias, plans were made for the annual "husband party," which will be a dinner theater party on March 8.

Also discussed was the Lulu Corkhill Williams Friendship Fund. Mrs. A. C. Stoeber is chapter chairman for this project.

The day's program, "Valentine," was presented by Mrs. Richard Kerch. At the conclusion of her program, a special valentine was prepared by those present for Mrs. Winifred Nkanta, of Nigeria, who is doing graduate work at Illinois State University, Normal.

Mrs. Nkanta is an International Peace Scholarship student. This scholarship program is one of the educational philanthropies for women that the Sisterhood maintains.

The program provides scholarships for foreign students to pursue graduate study in the United States or Canada. At the conclusion of their studies, the scholarship recipients return to their homes to contribute their knowledge and talent to their local areas.

Mrs. Charles Kohl is chairman of the IPS program for Chapter HT.

Next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. E. F. Reiske on Feb. 26.

Mrs. Schank club hostess

The first meeting of the new year of the Gardenaires Garden Club was held in the home of Mrs. Leo Schank, last week. She served a dessert luncheon to eight members and they answered roll call by naming a bird that nests in her garden. Mrs. Schank reported on the mini-garden center at the Granite City Public Library. During the month of January house plants were featured, while the current display is on birds with emphasis placed on easy methods of bird feeding during snow days, she added. Mrs. A. A. Malottki displayed the scrapbook she has compiled which records in words and pictures, club work of the year. It was noted that posters by third grade students at Parkview School are entered in the Smokey the Bear-Woodsey Owl contest which is a conservation project of National Council of Gardens Clubs. At the request of the Granite City Park District, the Gardenaires will join other garden clubs in the city in designing and planting a flower bed at Wilson Park this spring. The next meeting will be a luncheon in the home of Mrs. Richard Kerch at which time new officers will be elected and installed, the hostess announced. Other members present were Mesdames C. E. Eads, Earl Glenn, Robert Hintz, $200 RING SET GONE A set of wedding and engagement rings, valued at $200, was reported missing Monday from the home of Bonnie Oxford, 113 Wilson Park Lane. Charles Kohl and Mary Kristian.

Shower honors Mrs. Tadlock

Mrs. Mary Paterson Tadlock was guest of honor at a post bridal shower given at the Second Baptist Church by Mrs. Ann Hordensky and Mrs. Ruth Hassler.

A pink and white motif was used for the table decorations with white cloths, accented with a matching swag, covering the main and gift tables. Gold nestlelaba holding burning pink tapers centered the main table and a pink and white sprinkling can served as the centerpiece for the gift table, enhanced with a suspended white lace umbrella.

Mrs. Betty Lewis directed the games and awarded prizes to 15 guests. The hostesses served refreshments to 80 people who attended.

Mrs. Tadlock, the former Mary Paterson, was married to Don Tadlock on July 29 in Eldon, Mo. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Paterson of Granite City. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Tadlock, also resides in Granite City.

Mrs. Barr hosts pinochle club

Mrs. Margaret Barr, Meadowlane Drive, entertained the Bakers Dozen Card Club, last week, for a monthly gathering.

Those excelling in the pinochle games were Mesdames Rhonda Hunter, Bea Horn, Doris Ross and the hostess.

A Valentine decor was used by the hostess in her table appointments for the refreshment hour. Following the games, Mrs. Horn was feted with a special gift as she is moving to Missouri next week.

Also attending were Mesdames Jeannine Steffanoff, Martha Ropac, Sherry Black and Giner Horn.

Sr. Citizens host Valentine party

The YMCA Senior Citizen Club attended a Valentine party during the weekend at the YMCA and honored 12 members on their birthday dates this month.

President Lucille Pierce opened the meeting with members repeating the pledge of allegiance and prayer.

These feted included Mrs. Pierce, Bob Salem, Kathryn Todoroff, Katherine Hinkley, Maggie Buckingham, Lottie Ostresh, Helen Thiele, Tom Crawley, Sylvia Misselhorn, Gladys Hudgens, Vesta Lake and Gladys Freeman.

The president announced a pot luck dinner is planned for Friday, Feb. 16, and a salad luncheon for Friday, Feb. 21, at the YMCA.

MR. AND MRS. KENNETH MEINZ.

They were united in marriage Jan. 6 at Central Christian Church. She is the former Miss Phyllis Jean Morris, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Morris, 2416 Benton St.

Phyllis Jean Morris weds Kenneth Meinz

Miss Phyllis Jean Morris, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Morris, 2416 Benton St., became the bride of Kenneth Edward Meinz Jan. 6 in a candlelight ceremony at Central Christian Church. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Meinz, 10738 Larkspur, St. Louis. The Rev. Dennis Rutledge officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Organist Betty Grote accompanied June Branding as she sang "Evergreen," "Sunrise, Sunset," "Wedding Song," and the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Grote also played the wedding march.

The bride was escorted by her father to an altar decorated with garlands and chrysanthemums. She chose an ivory-colored qiana gown with a scoop neckline trimmed in Chantilly lace. The formal-length dress had long bishop sleeves with Chantilly lace and sheer nylon inlays. The skirt flowed softly into a cathedral train.

She wore a Juliet cap which secured a fingertip veil edged in Chantilly lace. The bride carried a bouquet of white and orange-tipped roses with baby's breath and ivory satin ribbons.

Her matron of honor, Mrs. Loretta Blair, and bridesmaid, Miss Susan Meinz, the groom's sister, chose identically-styled gowns of rust colored qiana. The formal-length dresses featured gathered bodices and fitted waists.

Both attendants carried bouquets of rust-tinted daisies and chrysanthemums with baby's breath and orange satin ribbons. Each wore a silk rose in her hair. The flower girl, Angela Blau, wore a white chiffon floor-length dress with a high neckline and long sleeves. She carried a basket of daisies and wore baby's breath in her hair.

The groom chose Gary Garnett as best man. Dwight Spoerry was groomsman. David and Larry Blair served as ushers and candlelighters.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Morris, wore a toast-colored long qiana gown which had a draped bodice and long sleeves. The pleated skirt was belted at the waist.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Meinz, chose a toffee-colored satin formal length dress. It was designed with a cowl neck, long sleeves and a fitted waist. Both wore corsages of roses and carnations.

A rehearsal dinner was held at Ravanelli's Restaurant, and a reception took place in the church hall immediately after the wedding.

The bride graduated from Granite City High School in 1972. She also graduated from F. W. Olin School of Nursing and Richard J. Daley College in Chicago. She is a staff nurse at St. Joseph Hospital in Kirkwood, and is a member of the Emergency Department Nurses Association.

Her husband graduated from Fox High School in Arnold, Mo., and Jefferson College in Jefferson County, Mo. He is employed as a truck driver for Bussen Quarry in St. Louis.

The newlyweds are residing in St. Louis.

Jr. Garden Club plans park project

Plans to design a flower garden and select appropriate plants for the floral bed at Wilson Park was completed during a weekend meeting of the Fair Oaks Junior Garden Club.

Miss Jill Donley hosted the February session in her home and Vice-president Nancy Griffith presided over the meeting.

The members will maintain the park garden project during the year, it was noted. Each one present answered roll call with the name of an evergreen.

Mrs. Judith Donley led the group in a study of trees listed in the Bible, as the program for the day.

After the business discussions miniature rose gardens were created by the members followed by refreshments.

Others present included Michelle McAmish, Darren Frech, Julie and Joel Donley, and the club advisor, Mrs. Clara Winter. The next meeting will be held in the home of Miss McAmish, 3320 Colgate Place.

Solution to government spending may prove elusive

The attention getting part of the proposed Illinois Constitutional amendment drawn up by State Rep. Donald Totten, Hoffman Estates Republican, is that it would not only limit state revenue to eight percent of the total personal income of Illinois residents, but also would bar local governments and school districts from non-referendum tax boosts exceeding three-fourths of inflation advances.

One or the other approach might work, but a simultaneous lid on both state and local spending might put a lot of public school systems out of business, not to mention handicapping other community services, many governmental authorities are forecasting.

One attractive element of the plan is that the state would have to pay local governments or schools for the cost of any new state-required programs that would have to be provided by communities. Where the state would get the money is another matter, though, since it already is spending $400 million a year more than the proposed eight percent limit.

Perhaps the best insight into the amendment plan is that there would be no limit on taxation needed to pay the state debt. That figure is $4 billion at present. And with the ground rules currently envisioned for the "tax limit," debt might grow rapidly, while also adding the extra burden of interest on costs. Thus, a ceiling would be no ceiling on taxing and spending.

Utopia for taxpayers may lie ahead, but we suspect that Don Totten hasn't yet found the right road map to lead us there.

Union in effect may provide 'civil service' for county

Alton Telegraph comment — For years, county employees came and went with the winds of politics.

Perhaps efficiency in the offices suffered. There is some support for the argument, in that the procedure lent itself to destruction of incentive toward doing the real work at hand and failed to recognize merit in any fields but political support.

Last fall, a major change occurred in the incumbency of the Madison County treasurer's office. A Bethaltoan, Michael Henkhaus, took over from long-time sometimes sheriff, sometimes treasurer, George Musso — a football hero of days past.

Henkhaus began some changes of his personnel. He had some written evaluations made of all office employees by his four deputies.

However, Henkhaus is taking full responsibility for dismissal of four members of his staff, and not trying to blame anyone else. The four dismissed now have appealed to their union, Local 799 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees.

Marian Hoechst, president of the local, says she plans to take the protest "all the way." The union, in effect, could be serving as a substitute for civil service in county government in contesting the discharges.

Henkhaus, of course, can make a strong presentation he is making reorganizational changes in the staff to improve all-around efficiency.

That he is not interested in the public. The protest has merit because it contests the justice of the changes made in Henkhaus' staff, and could demonstrate the pattern which may be followed.

The public, we feel, would be best served if the matter were settled amid a freedom of acrimony, violent and unfounded accusations, and counter-accusations. The public should be satisfied regarding the real reasons for the change, and the treasurer can operate at his office best if the contest remains free of harassment.

Liturgical workshop

Granite City area residents are being invited to a workshop, sponsored by the Office of Divine Worship and the Liturgical Commission. The workshop will be given by the Rev. Bob Dufford of the St. Louis Jesuit Singers and will be held on Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, Granite City.

It will be a workshop on Liturgical principles, emphasizing the art of appreciating and understanding proper use of music in liturgy. It will begin at 9 a.m. and end with the liturgy at 5:30 p.m.

The program is for priests, musicians, music directors and anyone interested in better liturgies. All teachers and parishioners likewise are being urged to participate.

There will be a $3 fee, which does not include lunch. "Bring your own sack lunch (drinks furnished) and try to local quick food services," a spokesman suggested.

Graville heads city organization

Vasil Graville, of Madison, presided over his first meeting Monday evening in the Firemen's Hall as new president of the Madison City Organization.

Graville was elected Feb. 5, replacing Alderman Thomas Gordon. Graville had been the Madison City Organization's secretary and Al Hudzik as treasurer.

Bert Armour was elected as vice-president, and re-elected were Mike Macdonald, secretary and Al Hudzik as treasurer.

Under discussion at the Monday meeting was the upcoming city election on April 17.

Graville is currently commander of Madison Amvets Post 204 and is formerly 25th District commander of Amvets.

Long-life valentine bouquets

By WAYNE B. SIEFFERT
Area Horticulture Adviser
Whether a valentine bouquet is one flower or several dozen, proper care means longer flower life and enjoyment.

Keeping bouquets cool and using a preservative in the water will keep flowers fresh and beautiful. Cool night temperatures will extend the life of flowers.

Refrigerator temperatures are ideal when you can refrigerate them at night. If there is no space in a refrigerator, move the flowers to a cool room, garage or basement.

For preservatives in the water, most florists use a commercial product that prevents the plugging of the flower stems by algae in the water. As long as the tubes inside a flower stem are clear, water can move freely to the leaves and blossoms.

If you receive boxed flowers, use a razor blade to cut an inch or more from the ends of the stems. Place the newly cut flowers in warm water (close to 110 degrees F.) containing a floral preservative. Most florists and some garden stores sell the preservatives.

When you put your flowers in clear tap water, change the water every day and recut the ends of each flower. Changing the water keeps the algae content in the water from building up, and cutting the stem removes the area where the water tubes are likely to plug.

Check the bouquet every day or so to be sure there is enough water. If the water has a preservative, it isn't necessary to recut each day, but you should add more water and preservative when the water level gets low.

Mini-fair on careers

The GCHS South Guidance Department is hosting a monthly Mini-Career Fair each focusing on a different career cluster.

February's emphasis will be on careers in the areas of communications and applied arts. This fair will be held in the Guidance Career Center at South on Wednesday, Feb. 21, from 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. for interested students. Students will visit during their half-hour lunch or study periods to talk informally with various career field representatives.

Hospice group discusses funds

Hospice of Madison County is beginning a fund-raising momentum as the organization's constitution should be completed and filed before the end of the week. This was reported to the general membership at an organizational meeting, held Monday night in the cafeteria of St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Securing funds to get the program under way was the main topic of discussion. It has been estimated that it will cost $30,000 during the first year. Roger Frank, an assistant to the director at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, is looking into state and federal grant possibilities for the group.

Under the Hospice program, terminally ill people and their families are given a half-hour or longer professional and lay volunteers. The idea is to help the terminal patient live out his last hours in peace, his family. After death has occurred, the program continues to help the family for as long as needed.

Panelists will include: Mrs. Delores Holt, director of the nationwide Mother-to-Mother program, a structure.

Musical magic at M-V Rotary

By MICK STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer
Can one man sound like the big bands of the 1940s?

Members of the Madison-Venice Rotary Club found out Wednesday at noon that one man can.

All that is needed for total entertainment is $20,000 worth of electric keyboards, plus a computerized drummer and the talents of Mike Zikovich.

A native of Granite City, Zikovich, fascinated the Rotarians with a behind-the-scenes look into the music business and unbelievable sounds as he played portions from his new album, "Making Waves."

One side on the record featured 12 tunes made famous by Harry James, Benny Goodman, Artie Shaw, Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey and others.

The flip side of the album contains music by Zikovich, who is also an accomplished singer.

He started his career playing the accordion, but he said that limited him to polkas.

He spent two years early in his career with the Frank Yankovic orchestra playing at the Golden Nugget in Las Vegas and the 1960 Winter Olympics in Squaw Valley at age 19.

He has made seven albums on Columbia Records and has appeared on the Lawrence Welk network TV.

BPW speaker on hospice

International Women's Week will be observed and a speaker on the new hospice concept being introduced here will be heard at the Wednesday, Feb. 21, dinner meeting of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club.

The dinner will start at 6:30 p.m. at Charlie's Restaurant, under sponsorship of the Foundation Program committee led by Beverly Stone and Louise Smith.

To mark International Women's Week Feb. 18-Feb.

show and also on the Mike Douglas show.

He has been featured at the Jamaica Hilton, toured seven countries in Europe, played the Playboy Club circuit and has been featured in Variety.

While in Denver, he met and married his wife and was a proprietor of a music store specializing in keyboard sales and instruction.

His eight keyboard conglomeration enables the artist to reproduce big band instruments such as trumpets, trombone, clarinet, flute, French horn, bassoon, string section or orchestral sounds, guitar, banjo and drums. Much coordination and skill are required.

Zikovich is getting into albums more now because he is not interested in being on the road for any great length of time. He is the proud father of four children and his family comes first.

His formal education includes the University of Detroit, Southern Illinois University at Carbondale and the St. Louis Institute of Music.

Zikovich is currently performing at the Ramada Inn, Alton, and is working as a free-lance composer and arranger and as a studio musician.

The album he is now working on will be all his own original music.

How will Gateway fare against the SWC?

By PETE HAYES

of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — How will the teams of the new Gateway East Conference fare next season, compared to the "established" teams of the Southwestern Conference?

Many coaches seem to feel that if a team drops out of the SWC, it means the coaches of that school aren't willing to compete in the big loop.

"Getting out of the Southwestern Conference indicates to me that some coaches don't want to put the time and effort necessary to build a winning program," said Belleville West Wrestling Coach John Wehmeier. "We are the best team in the area because we complete against the best competition we can find." The Maroon grapplers downed GCHS South by one point earlier in the season for the second straight year. Both teams led the area in qualifying wrestlers for sectional action at South this weekend.

The teams which will be in the new league will be GCHS South, GCHS North, Edwardsville, Cahokia and Belleville Althoff.

The idea that the SWC is the only "Major" conference in this area is one that had been held by many observers for years. But the plain fact is that the present SWC is but a shell of the league it once was.

The withdrawal of Edwardsville, Cahokia and Collinsville has left the league with only four members (Alton, East St. Louis and the two Belleville schools).

The new Gateway Conference could well be the equal of and in some cases better than, the SWC teams in a particular sport.

Take wrestling and soccer for instance. Even though Belleville West has emerged recently as a power, it is the only real threat to the Gateway's three juggernauts (South, North and Cahokia). In soccer there should be no question. With BELLEVILLE — The question is: How can a team with a 5-13 record play like a 13-5 team?

Let Bill Ohlendorf explain: "We've been playing better and better since Christmas," said the Granite City North coach. "We've been in every game and played tough against some very fine clubs."

The GCHS North Steelers dominated play from start to finish here Tuesday night enroute to an overwhelming 79-58 victory over Belleville Althoff. The loss dipped hapless Althoff's Crusaders to 1-18, including three losses to North this season.

"Heck, they were wanting to schedule us about five or six times this season," laughed Ohlendorf. "They beat us three times last year."

The Steelers played perhaps their best team basketball of the season during the first 12 minutes of the game. They jumped out to an early 13-5 lead and stretched it to 25-14 at the end of the first quarter.

But with 5:31 left in the first half, North started to appear a little less confident. Althoff had cut the Steelers' lead to 27-18. Ohlendorf called timeout. "We talked a little bit about intensity," he said. "We had big leads like that over them twice before early in the game, but we let them get right back into it in order."

The advice must have hit home. The Steelers came out of the timeout huddle and seemed to get their act back in order.

The scoring gun for North, as usual, was hot-shot guard Dennis Page. The six-foot junior found the range for 28 points to pace all scorers.

"Dennis played a fine offensive game," said Ohlendorf. "But he's starting to become more valuable as an all-around player also."

Page had been criticized by some observers early in the season as an "all-score, no-defense" type of player. But according to Ohlendorf, he's shedding that label.

"Dennis' playing much better defense now," said Ohlendorf. "I think most of it can be attributed to his becoming more mature, both physically and emotionally."

Some of the scoring burden has been taken off Page as of late by forward Mike Robertson. He has become an inside-outside threat for North, something the team lacked in the first half of the season.

"Mike has improved immensely since the Christmas break," said Ohlendorf. "In fact, I think he's the main reason we're starting to become more effective."

"His ability to score has taken some of the load off Page and therefore allowed Page to concentrate on something other than putting the ball in the hole."

What about Althoff? Ohlendorf has been in similar situations in his coaching career. "Right now they're playing for next season," said Ohlendorf. They know they aren't going anywhere and are trying to give their younger players as much playing experience as possible. Therefore, it's hard to develop any continuity in their offense. It makes a team look ragged."

Althoff started its regular starting five then started sifting younger players in and out of the lineup once it was clear North would win easily.

Early in the game, it appeared as if North had more patience on offense, waiting for a good shot instead of taking a poor one, not getting the rebound, then having the other team score at the other end of the floor.

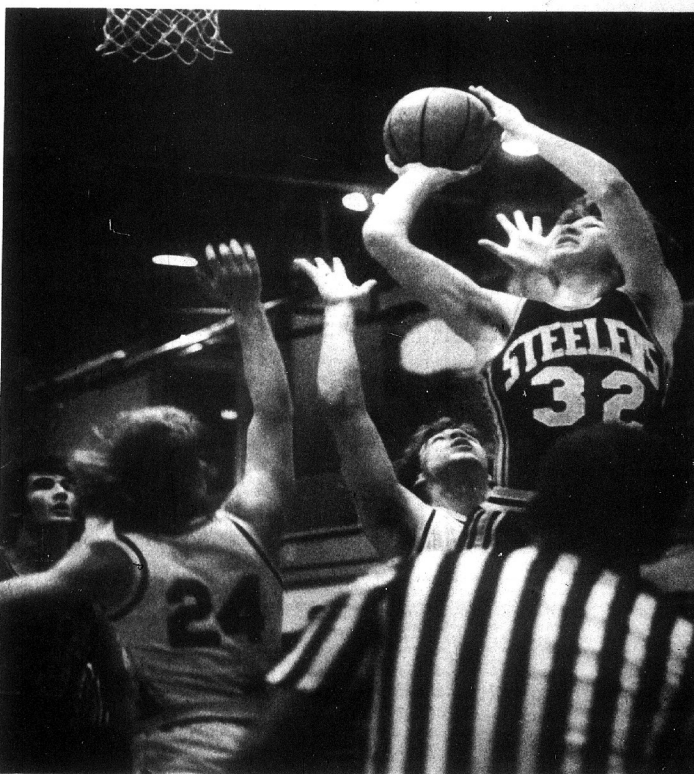

"We've been working extremely hard on our offense," said Ohlendorf. "We're getting the good shots and finding open men. It's better when you can take a 10 or 12-footer instead of having to rely on a 20-footer every time."

Ohlendorf said his team is starting to play well at the right time of the season. "A game like this is good for confidence," he said.

The North defense caused the make-shift Althoff lineup many turnovers in the second half. "I'm proud of the way our guys played defense," said Ohlendorf. "But I'm even prouder of the way they took the ball to the hoop."

If you play defense, you'll get by, but you've got to score too in any sport to win."

The next game for North will be Saturday when it travels to Teutopolis for a game with the Wooden Shoes.

GOING UP with a shot Tuesday against Belleville Althoff is North Steeler Mike Robertson (32). North dominated the Crusaders and coasted home with an easy 20-point victory. The Steelers' next game will be Saturday night on the road against Teutopolis. (Press-Record Photo by Pete Hayes)

Venice nits St. Henry; five in double figures

By KEVIN ALLEN

BELLEVILLE — Venice High's Red Devils have been playing better basketball recently, the problem is they can't tell how much better.

Venice's last two games saw them first, come close to 100 points, then, last night, break that plateau, beating St. Henry 106-85.

The problem is determining just how much improvement these outrageous scores represent. Neither St. Henry or Saturday night's victims, Marquette, could hardly be thought of as competition equals of Venice.

With the season winding down, Venice Coach Ken Perkins is puzzling over the situation. One thing is common to both games, the Red Devils, on both occasions, were a running team. "As much running as we've been doing, I expect mistakes, and I don't mind them," he said. "I do mind when we play sloppy defense."

Obviously, Perkins would rather see his team win than lose, but he did say, "For while the only time we won was when we really got our game together. But these

Friday's game is 'on'

VENICE — Friday's game here between Venice High and St. Louis Central will take place as scheduled, according to Venice Coach Ken Perkins.

Perkins said officials from Central High contacted him earlier this week and notified him that they fully intend to carry through with the game.

Because of a strike by St. Louis Public School teachers, most athletic activities have been canceled.

St. Henry's Kirk Massman was also productive for his team. He added 20 points in the game.

For Venice, five players in all scored ten or more points. Ron Salmund led the Red Devils with 18.

Despite the impressive statistics, Perkins was less than pleased with the performance. "We didn't like to play defense tonight. I just hope we settle down a little and start doing things right," he said.

In fact, with stiffer competition ahead, the Red Devils will probably turn away from its new-found running game, and return to the more conventional style of earlier this season.

"When you come to the state tournament," Perkins said, "Sometimes you have to run. If you can't, then you play pattern ball, that's why we work on our pattern game first."

That way we have everything covered."

shots it took in the second quarter. The Red Devils swept up everything coming off their backboard, so even when they missed they had a second chance.

St. Henry's Todd Graff, a highly visible guard on the mediocre team, led both teams in scoring with 21 points. Even though Venice's forward line towers over Graff, he was able to drive inside on the Red Devils the entire game.

St. Henry's Kirk Massman was also productive for his team. He added 20 points in the game.

Coach Gallatin is optimistic as Cougar golfers get ready for the Press-Record

By AL BARNES

EDWARDSVILLE — A confident Coach Harry Gallatin met Monday, Feb. 12, afternoon with the members of the varsity golf squad at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

He was pleased with the turnout and announced that any SIUE student may try out for the squad. (Those interested may call him at 682-2115).

The 1979 SIUE golf team, which will open its campaign March 19 at Miami, Fla., by participating in the five-day Florida International University Invitational Tournament, will have the veteran look.

"With the players I have back, I am confidently anticipating that we will continue to post the winning season that has become a tradition here at SIUE for the past 10 years," Coach Gallatin said.

Returning standouts on the SIUE gold squad are All-Americans Les Agne and Tim Gehrig. They sparked the Cougars to their 13th finish in the 1978 NCAA Division II championship finals. In addition, Gallatin points out, "I'll have three other great golfers in Dave Dean, Mark Hofstetter and Guy Phillips who should make us outstandingly tough. Dean, Hofstetter and Phillips, plus Agne and Gehrig very definitely should make the Cougars strong contenders for post-season NCAA laurels."

A pair of freshmen, Derek Dolenc and Scott Spooner, according to Gallatin, "are valuable new additions to the squad and will be winners."

Both Dolenc and Spooner contended for qualifying slots in fall competition and fared very well, Gallatin said.

"And, the always reliable Steve Gower and Stan Samoska give us a nine-man squad which put together a sensational 52-6 season last fall. We have qualified for nine of the 10 years which we have been eligible for post-season NCAA competition," said Gallatin, who added: "We should qualify again this year."

On the basis of the 1978 spring SIUE golf squad record, Agne's 74.30 and Gehrig's 74.91 averages for 32 rounds are indeed indicative of strength.

The Cheap Seats

By Kevin Allen

Once you've seen a number of high school basketball games, you start to get that de javu feeling. You know, the "I'm sure I've been here before" sensation.

If you've seen Venice win by forty once, you've seen Madison do it five times. If you've seen a poor team lose at the buzzer three weeks in a row, a good one will blow a halftime lead and do the same thing. I mean, there are only so many variations to the one-team-loses-the-other-team-wins theme.

You see, I cover, on an average, about three high school games a week. Add to that the college games I see, both in the stands and on TV, and the professional games I watch on the tube, and I have basketball running out of my ears.

Don't misunderstand, though. I'm not complaining. I really like basketball. But it's my job to go to the games and concentrate on what's happening, then to write a story explaining why things happened. If I happen to enjoy the game, great. But if the game I'm covering turns out the same as the one the night before, that's OK too.

Sometimes though, I can't help myself. I get bored. If you were in my situation, you'd do what I do, look for distractions.

The little things are the best. Like if all the player's shoes match, or if the coach's sports jacket and pants match his school's official colors.

I just know you're thinking, "who cares?" But I also know that I'm not the only one who notices these things. Nobody talks about them, (probably because they fear the reaction, "Who cares? Shut up and pay attention to the game.") but everyone notices them.

"Look at that number 33. What a hot dog. Just look at those socks up to his knees. Ref, who does he think he's kidding. This is probably his first game. Look at his shoes. Not a scuff on them." Come on. You do it too, don't you?

It's really nothing to be ashamed of. Sometimes this incidental stuff is the best part of the game.

Take the warm-up drills before the game begins. I usually watch these pretty closely. I have all the preliminary information, names, records, outstanding players, etc. recorded, and I don't keep the percentage of practice shots made, so I can concentrate on other matters.

One of my favorite things to watch, and you might try this too, is the way the guys who sit on the bench during the games behave during the warm-up. This is their moment; maybe the only time they get to handle the ball on the court. They're looking good in the warm-up. They're really concerned with the number of times they miss a shot, or fumble a rebound, or make someone jump for a pass.

The trick for me, of course, is to make it seem like they really don't care. So you have to watch closely for all of this. It's very subtle. Just one, I'd like to hear a coach say, "Great warm-up. Fudgy. You're starting tonight."

So, as you can see, I probably rate as an expert, if not on the game itself, at least on the nuances and subtleties surrounding basketball. But I realize that you watch these things for the same reason I do. You're intrigued by them as I am. Don't you? Well, don't you? I know you do.

SUE ready for baseball

By AL BARNES

of the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — Coach Garrett R. (Bo) Collins of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville baseball team has issued a call for pitchers and catchers to report to camp on Monday (Feb. 5). On Feb. 20, the remainder of the team's players will report.

Collins, who has taken over for veteran SUE baseball coach Roy E. Lee said he is optimistic about the Cougars' chances in the upcoming season. "Of course, I didn't have the time to have liked in the fall workouts, but what I saw impressed me greatly," said the 31-year-old coach.

Collins starred for the Cougars in his undergraduate days in the 1969 and 1970 seasons and is the first graduate of SUE to return to his alma mater to coach a varsity team.

The Cougars' veteran catcher, senior Randy Manley from Highland, has been the overall one of the greatest power hitters who ever played for SUE, is even higher on the team's chances during the upcoming campaign: "We have 46 games scheduled. So, allowing for the many rainouts, I predict we'll finish with a 30-8 record."

When Manley was awarded the toughness of the SUE baseball schedule, could schedule, he refused to hedge: "We'll be tough. As Coach Collins says, we'll have team depth and outstanding pitching. Manley was picked twice in the Little World Series of Collegiate Baseball at Springfield (Illinois) and tournaments' first team designated hitter. His freshman year, Manley's bat helped lead the Cougars to their second-place finish in the national tourney.

With no attempt to rank them in order, Collins went down the list of those players who will make up his squad for the season:

Pitchers: The Cougars, a Springfield player has transferred from Lincoln (Ill.) Junior College to try for the job at third base. "He's a good pitcher in fall workouts," said Collins.

"But, let's stick with the veterans in making our judgment on the spring season. OK?" pleaded Collins.

"Like, say out pitchers — Jay Coughlin and his kid brother, Rick. Rick is from Chicago; Larry Donaldson, a southpaw from Peoria by the way of Lincoln Junior College; Brian McFarland from Belleville; John Mueller from Morton Grove; John Lakin from Granite City; and Tom Ritzheimer, Belleville," listed Collins.

"At shortstop, of course, we'll be counting on Tony Pugh for another brilliant season," the coach said. In addition to playing sensationally with his glove, the Cougars native led the Cougars with his bat with a tremendous .414 batting average, best ever for any Cougar hitter.

"Next is Tommy Carroll, who has a good shot for the third base slot," said Collins. The Edwardsville high product can also play in the outfield. A standout in left field, according to Collins, is Alton D. Eberlin. "Don D. is a Cougars' native. He's got a need him," the coach said.

A couple of standout prospects for catcher are Granite City's Brian Sikes, who has proved he also can hit the long ball, and another distance swatter, Garrry Davidson of Niles High. Chicago, "Sikes could also win the job at first base."

Rich Kantner, Highland, will be trying for a spot in the outfield. He's probably the fastest man on the squad, Collins says.

South gets second shot at West

By PETE HAYES

Sports Editor

of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — When the Granite City South wrestling team qualified seven grapplers for this weekend's South Sectional Tournament it came as no surprise. After all, South has been a dominant force in wrestling for this area for many years.

The Warriors year in and year out dominate area teams with ease and then look around for more. They beat everybody in sight...almost everybody.

South's dual record was a 22-1 this season. But that one loss still sticks in the Warriors' craw. It came on Friday, Jan. 12 in Belleville at the hands of the Belleville West Maroons...by one point.

West qualified six wrestlers for the district tourney. What do South's seven qualifiers think about the upcoming tourney and the fact that the Maroons will be in THEIR territory this weekend?

Barry Forshee, A 136-pound senior, Forshee came out of the South this season. He said that South is the better team of the two (West and South) and will prove it in the sectional. "I think we'll win the sectional," he said. "They'll be in our backyard now."

Forshee became interested in wrestling while a student at Coolidge Junior High in Granite City. He said that he likes most about the sport is that it teaches respect for the opponent plus gives the participant a feeling of accomplishment if he should win.

Something besides Belleville West is in the back of Forshee's mind, however...better make someone. Granite City North's Allen Kirgan.

Kirgan and Forshee have wrestled four times this season. Forshee has won four times. But the bouts keep getting closer according to Forshee. "I hope Allen never beats me," he said. "But I know he's out to get me. I'll meet it in the finals, though."

Dean Perkins has a problem. He's Sam Perkins' little brother. Sam Perkins is undefeated during the regular season at 138 pounds for South until he lost to North's Kevin Shemwell in the district championship. Sam also finished second in the state at 138 last season.

Enough about Sam. What about Dean, the 145-pounder? Does the fact that he's compared to his older brother bother him? "Nah, it doesn't bother me," he said with a grin. "Heck, if I took everything about this sport seriously, it wouldn't be nearly as much fun."

The Perkins boys' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Tannis (Margaret) Perkins.

Can Dean beat Sam? "It's pretty even, really," he said. "We know each other's moves pretty well by now."

South

Drue Clement

Clement, a 112 pound junior, didn't even know halfway through the season if he would get a starting position on the South squad. Ron Cline had been the Warriors' starter at 112 the early part of the season. But by challenging Cline for the starting spot, Clement earned a shot at the state finals.

"I'm scared," he said. "Not scared of getting hurt, just scared of not doing well. I guess it's called butterflies."

Clement said he was encouraged to wrestle by his older brother Scott, a 198 graduate of South.

Scott Polson, a 167 pound junior, sports a 30-4-1 won-lost record. He attributes his success and ability to qualify for the sectional to hard work. "Every single guy who qualified for the sectional stayed after practice for more workouts," he said.

"Most of the guys who didn't qualify didn't stay after practice," he said.

Polson is a fiery wrestler. "I guess emotions are a big part of wrestling," he said. "Do South's wrestlers have anything to prove to Belleville West? Just ask Polson. 'I think we're the better team,' he said. "But we have to be ready. They're tough."

Don King, King, a senior 185 pounder, has a 25-3 record this season. Last year, he wrestled as a heavyweight.

"I'm glad I don't have to do that anymore," he laughed. "Those big guys are hard to bring down."

King barely qualifies as a 185-pounder. He tips the scales at 187. "I don't have to worry about holding my weight down," he said. "I have to worry about being under-weight."

King said he knows he'll have to work harder than ever to do well in the sectional. "Everybody who makes it this far is tough," he said. "The secret is to stay cool and not get emotionally down."

King said he became interested in wrestling as a freshman. "The sport intrigues me," he said. "It's one-on-one. If mistakes are made, I take the blame."

Rodney Lupardus, Rod is a 119-pound junior with an 11-3 record. But he's also half of another "brother act" at South. His brother Rocky wrestled at 112 pounds, but did not qualify for the sectional.

In fact, Rocky may have given up his shot at a sectional berth so that his little brother would have a chance to qualify. "Rocky wrestled at 112 half the season," said Rodney. "But he wanted to drop down to 112 because he thought it might be easier...and to give me a chance to start."

Lupardus (Rodney, that is) feels he and his teammates have something to prove against Belleville West. "I lost to Heil of West the first time, and I think I'll have another shot at him in the sectional."

"We all want another shot at them."

North has something to prove

By PETE HAYES

Sports Editor

of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — The five Granite City North wrestlers who qualified for this weekend's South Sectional Tournament all feel they have something to prove.

North, even though it has been in existence only a few years, has become a state wide wrestling power. But the Steelers have had to take a backseat in recent years to their crosstown rivals (and friends) Granite South.

"We have to prove that we're another school in Granite besides South that has wrestling," said Greg Shemwell, a North 132-pound wrestler. "This year has been all Belleville West and South. But they're the only area teams to beat us."

The Steeler grapplers are anxious to get going. The Perkins boys' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Tannis (Margaret) Perkins.

Can Dean beat Sam? "It's pretty even, really," he said. "We know each other's moves pretty well by now."

North

become very good until he reached his sophomore year in high school. "While I was at Grigsby, I won only one match and that was by a forfeit," he laughed. "But I think I've turned things around since then pretty well."

Kirgan said he's not afraid of getting beat when he and Forshee step out onto the mat. "I know somebody's got to lose," he said. "I just hope it's not me again."

Kirgan said he hopes to do well in the sectional so that he can have a better chance at a college scholarship. "I'll have to put out some," he said. "I'd like to become a history teacher and go into coaching."

A particular sport? "Wrestling," said Kirgan. "No doubt about that."

Bob Kirgan, Bob Kirgan, a 26-5-1 record as a junior. He said he feels North definitely has something to prove against West and South. "Those teams have all the big names to scare you," he said. "But we proved last week that we've got guys who are just as good and that we aren't scared."

Bob said he doesn't know if he and brother Allen would do it if they wrestled. "He's bigger than me, but we know each other's moves pretty well."

The younger Kirgan also feels he will get another shot at one of the wrestlers who beat him this season, Bob Daum of Belleville West. "He beat me and I'm pretty sure I'll get another shot."

Kirgan became interested in wrestling while a student at Grigsby Junior High in Granite City. "I was watching Olympic wrestling on TV," he said. "I couldn't figure out where the ropes were and why the guys weren't hitting each other. But I thought it looked like fun."

Greg Shemwell, Greg is half of yet another "brother act" at North. His brother is a 138-pounder who also qualified for sectional action.

"We don't talk about wrestling too much," said Greg. "We knock on wood a lot, because we know Perkins will be back."

The Perkins referred to by Shemwell is Sam Perkins of South who was undefeated until last Saturday when Kevin knocked him off in district action at South.

Greg started wrestling at Grigsby Junior High. "My brothers and I sort of started out together," he said. "I like wrestling because you learn a lot about respect and staying in shape."

But there's one thing Shemwell likes more than staying in shape or learning respect. "The best part is getting your hand raised when you win a match," he said with a grin.

Kevin has earned a reputation in the past week as a giant killer. But he wasn't surprised when he knocked off Sam Perkins the undefeated list maker in district action. "Sam beat me pretty bad (13-2) the first time we wrestled this year," said Shemwell. "I wanted to prove that he wasn't that much better than I am."

An emotional-type wrestler, Shemwell attributes some of his success against Perkins to psychology. "We're pretty equal in skills," he said. "But I had a little something extra to fight for. I think that may have been the difference."

Shemwell said wrestling is a very personal sport. "Each guy has his own personal goals," he said. "I'd like to go to state. But my first goal is to win the sectional."

Gerald Miller, Looking at Gerald Miller, one would never think he's a wrestler. The 96-pound sophomore looks more like a choir boy than a grappler. But area foes have learned to take him seriously.

Miller has an axe to grind with someone not on either Belleville West or Granite City's South. Bethalto's Kristoff beat him both in a dual meet earlier this year and last week in the district championship bout.

"I lost bad both times," said Miller. "I don't think he's that much better than I am. But he takes me down early and I have to work from that situation."

I have to beat him at his own game."

Miller comes by his wrestling skills honestly. His older brother, Bob, was the state 108-pound champion in 1969 for Granite City High. "I think wrestling's a lot of fun," he said. "Winning is good. If you have fun and do things right, winning will take care of itself."

Tax breaks at age 65

Everybody likes to get a tax break and at age 65 that's exactly what you get.

Actually, there are several tax breaks for persons 65 and over. The first concerns the requirement to file a tax return: single people 65 and over are not required to file at all unless their income for 1978 was $3,700 or more. For married couples filing joint returns, the limit is $6,200 if both are at least 65.

Bear in mind, though, that the only way to get a refund is by filing. So, if you had any tax withheld from money you received in 1978 you should file to claim your refund, the Internal Revenue Service says.

For older Americans who are required to file, there is still some good news. One is the extra $750 exemption, over and above the regular $750 personal exemption to which each taxpayer is entitled.

A married couple filing a joint return where both spouses are 65 or over can claim four exemptions for a total of $3,000.

For federal income tax purposes, a taxpayer is 65 on the day before his or her 65th birthday. Since a person's filing status is determined by the situation on the last day of the tax year, a taxpayer whose 65th birthday falls on Jan. 1, 1979, can file as if he or she were 65 during 1978.

At retirement, which often begins at 65, many people sell their house and move to something a little smaller and easier to maintain.

To ease the bite on the profit which almost always results from the sale of a home, any gain from this type of sale is tax exempt if the adjusted selling price is not more than $35,000.

When the selling price exceeds $35,000, at least part of the gain will still be nontaxable. The only conditions are that the home must have been your principal residence for at least five of the previous eight years, and you can only exclude the gain once in your life.

However, there are new rules if the sale was made after July 26, 1978. Gain of $100,000 may be excluded if the home was a principal residence three out of the five years ending on the date of sale. This new rule applies to those 55 and over.

The Tax Credit for the Elderly is one way to reduce taxes. While many persons over 65 may not consider themselves "elderly," the fact remains that the credit can reduce their income taxes by as much as $375 for singles and $562 for married couples. Because it is a tax credit and not a deduction, this amount is subtracted directly from the taxes owed.

To qualify for the Credit for the Elderly, you must be a U.S. citizen, and if you are 65 or over you must have taxable income. Persons under 65 can qualify if they are retired and are receiving taxable retirement income, such as from the federal government or from a school system.

IRS staffers will lend a hand in computing the credit if you give them the information they need by filing a completed Schedule R or RP with your Form 1040. You cannot use the Form 1040A to receive the credit.

Much of the income received in retirement years, including Social Security payments, is free of federal income tax.

Railroad retirement benefits are nontaxable, as are payments from a general welfare fund, such as payments for blindness.

For retirees receiving taxable pensions, Form W-4P provides for withholding at the source of the payments. This can help the retiree avoid having to pay estimated tax payments during the year.

The IRS has a number of free publications of interest to older Americans: Publication 17, "Your Federal Income Tax"; Publication 523, "Tax Information on Selling or Purchasing Your Home"; Publication 524, "Tax Credit for the Elderly"; and Publication 554, "Tax Benefits for Older Americans."

These are available by mail using the order form that comes in the tax instructions.

In addition to the booklets the IRS help, older Americans are offered free tax help by many community organizations and national retirement organizations.

GC students are honored at Murray State

A total of 1,184 undergraduate students at Murray State University (Murray, Ky.) earned recognition on the dean's list for high scholarship during the 1978 fall semester.

Among that number are 243 who achieved a perfect 4.0 standing. Others on the dean's list had grade point standings between 3.30 and 4.00. Standings are figured on the basis of 4.00 for A, 3.00 for B, 2.00 for C and 1.00 for D grades. Full-time undergraduates enrollment for the fall semester was 5,231.

Records from the university's data processing office show two students from Madison County with perfect scholastic standings. They are Stacey Diefenbach, Highland, and Laurie Wright, 3112 Colgate Place, Granite City.

Others on the dean's list from Madison County include Jeffrey Bailey, 1520 Clark Ave., Granite City, and Tanya McClain, Alton.

Some shortages of teachers in Illinois

Illinois experienced an unexpected demand for teachers during the 1977-78 school year, and shortages of qualified teachers are developing in several subject areas.

The 1977-78 Illinois Teacher Supply and Demand Report, newly prepared for the State Board of Education, reveals that about 7,670 individuals entered Illinois' teaching force for 1977-78 graduates. There was an increase, however, in the percentage of 1977-78 education graduates entering teaching the year after graduation.

An estimated 46.2 percent of the elementary education graduates, 38.0 percent of the secondary education graduates, and 50.5 percent of the special education graduates were employed as teachers during the 1977-78 school year.

The increase in demand for teachers during the 1977-78 school year has been linked to voluntary teacher turnover. Turnover refers to individuals who left teaching for any reason and did not return.

During the 1976-77 school year, the turnover rate for teachers increased. But many of those turnovers were due to layoffs. The report suggests that the 1978 school year has been a substantial increase in voluntary turnovers, which resulted in teachers being hired to replace those who had left.

If the factors affecting demand in 1977-78 continue, especially those affecting voluntary turnovers, the level of demand may stabilize or actually increase again, says the report.

Even with the demand in teachers recorded last school year, a general shortage of teachers prevails in Illinois. The overall trend for the demand in teachers has generally declined during the past eight years.

Illinois had a slight increase in teacher demand during the 1974-75 school year. A sharp drop was recorded for the next two school years.

However, teacher shortages exist in the following subject areas: agriculture, industrial arts, mathematics, some areas of special education, and some areas of natural science.

Placement directors for Illinois colleges and universities say they are finding it difficult to find qualified candidates for school officials trying to fill those teaching positions.

The teaching areas showing the greatest oversupply of teachers include the social sciences, health education, the foreign languages and physical education.

Some of the other highlights of the Teacher Supply and Demand Report: A decrease in the overall number of teachers prepared by Illinois colleges and universities in 1977-78 was again evident, but there are marked differences in the number of persons prepared in various subject areas.

—10,841 educational personnel were prepared in 1977-78. Of that number, 4,556 were elementary teachers, 4,558 were secondary teachers, 2,171 were special education teachers, and 556 were ungraded specialists.

—School administrators have continued to hire a substantial number of individuals from the pool of experienced teachers who at one time left the profession but now seek to re-enter.

—Both the overall supply and demand for teachers in Illinois have decreased sharply in recent years, and the balance between the two is more likely to fluctuate and become less stable as the supply and demand decrease.

—During the last 10 years, the percentage of elementary, secondary and special education graduates entering teaching the year after graduation was lowest for 1975-76 graduates. There was an increase, however, in the percentage of 1976-77 education graduates entering teaching the year after graduation.

—Copies of W-2 forms. —Documentation of income from rental property, estates or trust, and prizes. —Statements of interest and dividends paid to you by banks, savings and loan associations, credit unions, stock.

—Evidence of stock and bond sales, including brokerage sales slips and records of each security's original cost; and —Documentation of income from other sources. IRS Publication 525, "Taxable Income and Non-Taxable Income," lists sources of income to be included here.

It's a good idea to keep loan records, sales slips, invoices, receipts, cancelled checks, credit card payments, and any other documents that support your claims for tax-deductible expenses.

The following items are tax deductible: —Interest paid on a home mortgage or on installment accounts.

—Some medical expenses. —Charitable contributions. —State and city taxes.

—Sales tax on a new car. —Casualty losses. —Some property sales losses.

All these records, along with a copy of the actual return, should be kept for at least three years after you've filed the return.

If the Internal Revenue Service reviews your return, you'll have the necessary documents to prove the expense was deductible or the income was non-taxable. And if the IRS is going to review your return, it will probably be within this three-year period.

Now that you've organized your 1978 records and filed out the return, get your 1979 file up to date. With your records neatly organized, next year's return will be easier.

Good records can mean tax savings

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK

A record system which is well-kept during the year can pay off at tax time.

First, the records can save you money by reminding you of deductions you might otherwise forget. And, if you have kept all of your records during the year, you need not be frustrated from having to search for them when they are needed.

The following income records should be in your files:

Lincoln Trail preserves 16th president's heritage

By JANET WARE

The date was Feb. 12, 1809. The place, a farm near Hodgenville in Kentucky. Dennis Hanks took his brand new cousin into his arms for the first time and the baby let out a howl. Thrusting the child away, Dennis said, "Take him. He'll never come to much."

Americans know better, for that baby's name was Abraham Lincoln. But to look around at the humble surroundings in which he was born, you'd never have guessed he'd grow up to be president.

The very cabin in which Abe made his howling debut is today a national historic site. It's along the Kentucky branch of the Lincoln Heritage Trail.

The Trail, a 2,200-mile, medallion-marked route, cuts its way through three states — Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois — tracing the pre-presidential life of Abraham Lincoln.

Following a network of state and federal highways, the Trail meanders through the land young Lincoln knew and loved.

Whether you're a Lincoln buff or just have an average interest in the man who became the 16th president, you'll find along the Trail a vivid profile of the forces that shaped his early years. You can join it anywhere along its circular route and design a trip tailored to your interests and touring time. The logical place to begin, particularly this season when thoughts turn to Lincoln's early years, is where Abraham himself began — in Kentucky.

Lincoln's birthplace cabin is enclosed in a granite memorial shrine, located on the Sinking Spring Farm which was owned by his father, Thomas Lincoln. It is reached by 56 steps, each one marking a year in Lincoln's life.

In addition to the cabin, visitors to the site can see where a 300-year-old oak once marked one of the farm's original boundaries and the spring that provided the Lincolns with water.

A few miles to the north of Hodgenville lies Lincoln's second home, the Knob Creek Arm. Lincoln lived here from the age of two until he was almost eight.

His earliest recollections were of this place — memories which included nights spent listening to his mother as she read the Bible aloud. And the time when, but for the help of a friend, he would have drowned in Knob Creek.

Although Lincoln was born in Kentucky, he did most of his growing up in Indiana. There, he attended school when he could, and read every book he could borrow. The Lincoln Boyhood Memorial near Lincoln City was Abe's home from 1816 to 1830. The cabin is in much the same setting as it was when Lincoln was a boy, and a period farm has been developed around it.

There, too, is the grave of Nancy Hanks Lincoln, Abe's beloved mother. Visitors can still follow the path to this secluded spot as Lincoln himself once did.

Illinois is especially rich in Lincoln history. The trail enters the state at the identical spot where the Lincoln family first arrived in 1830.

Along the Trail's Illinois route are numerous towns where Lincoln practiced law as a circuit-riding attorney and debated in political campaigns.

At New Salem State Park, the historic village of New Salem has been faithfully reconstructed. Each building is authentically furnished and stands as it did when Lincoln served the village as general store clerk and postmaster.

The Trail reaches a kind of climax at Springfield. Here, visitors can stop at Lincoln's gracious home at Eighth and Jackson Streets, his former law offices and the old railroad depot, where he bade farewell to Springfield on his way to Washington and the presidency.

Lincoln is buried in Springfield's Oak Ridge Cemetery.

A trip along the Lincoln Heritage Trail is one way to celebrate the 170th anniversary of Lincoln's birth. For a free brochure containing a map of the Trail, Quad-Cityans may write: Lincoln Heritage Trail Foundation, 702 Bloomington Road, Champaign, Ill. 61820.

School art conference

"Arts have a vitally important place in the lives of children," according to the Illinois Office of Education, the Southern Illinois Arts Advisory Committee and the Illinois Project for Educational Replication. They have taken a step to reach the schools of southern Illinois April 26 and assist them in the enrichment of their programs.

A one-day conference will be held at the University Center at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale to publicize the goals of the Arts in General Education state plan. This document was adopted by the State Board of Education and is a commitment to encourage all school districts to establish Arts in General Education programs.

The conference has been entitled, "Spring Celebration: Excellence in the Arts." Activities of the conference will include presentations in music, visual arts, media arts, theater, literary arts and dance movement.

The sessions which have been planned will provide participants an opportunity to experience first-hand the scope and depth of exemplary arts programs.

All schools have been invited to display students' contributions to the arts. Others have offered to present student performances in the arts.

Administrators, teachers, students and citizens interested in the arts conference may contact Harold E. Briggs, Madison County Regional Superintendent of Schools, 201 Hillboro, Edwardsville, or phone 692-4530.

Arrest 3 on lot

Three Missouri men were arrested during a disturbance at Rico's II Lounge on Nameoki Road at 1:15 a.m. Monday.

Police on routine patrol alleged seeing Joseph F. Andrews, 19, St. Louis, and William S. White, 19, Bridgeton, Mo., fighting on the lounge's parking lot. They were arrested and charged with fighting.

During the arrests, Burt A. Andrews, 23, St. Louis, allegedly argued with White and attempted to start a fight. He was arrested and charged with disorderly conduct.

Police said Burt Andrews had a bleeding mouth which witnesses said had resulted when the two Andrew brothers fought inside the lounge and then were ordered to leave.

The three were released after posting $35 cash bonds.

Unemployment insurance post to Rep. McPike

Rep. Jim McPike (D-Alton) has been named chairman of a subcommittee of the House Labor and Commerce Committee which will study proposed changes in Illinois' unemployment insurance law.

Calling the subject "extremely controversial," McPike said he hopes the subcommittee can "achieve a balance that will assure adequate protection for workers while encouraging businesses to expand and locate in Illinois. "Labor leaders and business spokesmen are often sharply divided on the issue of unemployment insurance. "Our responsibility," McPike said, "will be to get these two groups together and assure that any changes in the law are reasonable and fair to both business and labor."

Developmentally disabled legal rights will be topic

A workshop on the legal rights of developmentally disabled persons will be held Saturday, Feb. 24, from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at SIU at Edwardsville in the University Center.

The workshop is sponsored jointly by the Advocates for the Developmentally Disabled and the SIUE Special Education Department. The cost of the workshop, $5, includes a luncheon.

The main purpose is to inform developmentally disabled persons, their parents or guardians, service providers, and the general public about the legal rights of developmentally disabled persons.

and "how to advocate for their rights."

The workshop will start at 9:15 with opening remarks by F. Don Carver, SIUE dean of education. For those who would like to become pre-registered for the workshop, forms are available at the office of the Advocates for Developmentally Disabled, 650 Carlyle Road, Sav-Mart Plaza Unit 6, Belleville 62221 and the Special Education Department at SIUE. For more information about registration, Quad-Cityans may call 277-4529.

McPike to study SIUE budget cuts

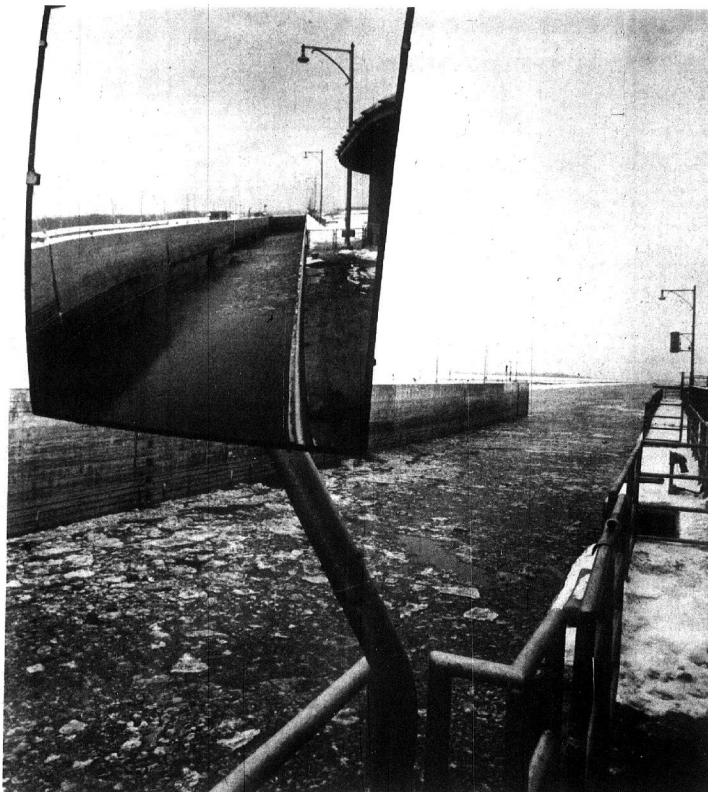

Rep. Jim McPike (D-Alton) has been appointed chairman of a joint subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee to investigate proposed budget cuts at SIUE at Edwardsville.

The subcommittee consisting of Rep. McPike, Rep. Everett Steele (R-Glen Carbon) and Rep. Roman Kosinski (D-Chicago) will hold a public hearing at SIUE commencing at 10 a.m. Monday, March 5.

McPike said he will request both the Board of Higher Education and the Bureau of the Budget to testify. "The board recommended a $700,000 cut in the operating budget at SIUE and the governor, through the Bureau of the Budget, has proposed an additional cut of $1 million," McPike said.

"The subcommittee will investigate the reasons behind these budget cuts and make recommendations to the House Appropriations Committee."

It is anticipated that SIUE administration and various faculty groups will testify at the March meeting. The public is being invited to attend and offer oral or written testimony on the subject.

Iron, steel scrap exports soaring

The domestic steel industry has called on in 1979, the Institute statement said, "the steel industry and other scrap consuming industries will have sustained an additional cost impact this year amounting to $1.4 billion, solely due to the increase in scrap prices over the past three months."

In a statement requesting the action, The American Iron and Steel Institute said increased exports and high domestic consumption have caused scrap prices to surge to $102 per ton, an increase of 41 percent from the third quarter of 1978.

"If these prices hold without rising further in 1979," the Institute statement said, "the steel industry and other scrap consuming industries will have sustained an additional cost impact this year amounting to $1.4 billion, solely due to the increase in scrap prices over the past three months."

Noting that exports of ferrous scrap in the fourth quarter of last year ran at an annual rate of 11.6 million tons—a higher rate than in 1973 when Commerce last imposed export controls on scrap—the Institute warned that the rapidly escalating prices coupled with a drawing down of domestic inventories "indicate a supply problem of growing proportion which requires immediate imposition of export controls."

Total inventories of all U.S. scrap-consuming industries declined to 8.4 million tons in November 1978, reaching their lowest level since September of 1975, AISI said.

Business school here reorganized

Reorganization of the SIUE School of Business, resulting in the division of two departments into four new departments, was authorized here Thursday by the SIUE Board of Trustees.

The department of marketing and management science will be reorganized as the department of marketing and the department of management systems and sciences.

The department of management will be reorganized as the department of management and the department of economics will remain unchanged.

Officials explained that the reorganization is expected to improve program development and delivery, and is necessary because of increasing enrollments and diversity of curriculum.

One additional administrative position will be required, and funds to support the position will be provided from reallocations internal to the School of Business.

Dean David Werner of the School of Business said faculty members of the departments involved are in agreement to continue improving the cross-teaching of courses, sharing of faculty, and development of joint research projects whenever possible.

The Board of Trustees also approved a resolution to change the title of a School of Business bachelor of science degree program on the local campus from economics to business economics.

University officials said the change in title will more accurately reflect the nature of the program and its content.

The title change is the result of surveys of potential employers, and discussions with students, advisers and counselors in the School of Business.

University officials said these activities indicate that potential students and potential employers are unaware that the subject program not only provides an education in economics but also provides additional exposure to accounting, finance, marketing, through the School of Social Sciences at the local campus — will be unaffected by the change.

The action will be reported for information to the staff of the Illinois Board of Higher Education as "a reasonable and moderate extension of an existing program."

JA fair

St. Clair Square's 120 stores will be joined by over 50 Jr. Achievement companies during the organization's annual trade fair. The event will be held on the mall's lower level from 9:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 17, and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 18.

Jr. Achievement gives high school students experience in the operation of a company from start to finish, and also gives them a "real world" awareness of business and the free enterprise system, spokesmen say.

Each Achievement company is sponsored by an area firm that provides guidance in manufacturing, marketing and keeping books on the companies. Sponsors include Monsanto, Illinois Power, Granite City Steel, Amax Zinc, American Steel Foundries, A. O. Smith Corp., Illinois Bell Telephone, Sears and Union Electric.

During the fair, over 40 different products ranging from jumper cables to candles will be offered for sale.

TRUCK+CAMPER TAKEN
A 1971 half-ton blue Chevrolet pickup with a green and white camper shell was stolen from 19th and Adams streets, it was reported by the owner, Walter Griffith of Cahokia, at 1:55 p.m. Monday. The vehicle had been left at that location at 2:15 a.m. the same day.

Pender promoted to treasurer of Aid Association

Wilmer C. "Bud" Stach, vice president and treasurer of the Aid Association for Lutherans (AAL), will retire Feb. 28 after more than 46 years as an employee of the association and will be succeeded by John H. Pender, senior investment vice-president.

Pender, whose new title will be senior investment vice-president and treasurer, is a former Granite Cityan.

Stach, of Appleton, Wis., began his career with AAL as a clerk June 8, 1932. As a result, he has the longest period of service of any AAL active employee. He worked in a variety of jobs in the accounting areas of the home office and became a manager in 1938, first of the surplus refund department and later of the premium accounts department.

In 1954, Stach became an officer of AAL and assistant secretary. He later became involved with AAL's planning and electronic data processing areas. In 1967, he was named vice-president and treasurer.

Stach has been active in many civic, business and professional organizations. He and his wife, Dorothy, attend St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church, Appleton.

Pender, 1213 Woodland Court, Appleton, joined the AAL staff in October 1976 as vice-president, investments. About a year ago, he was named senior investment vice-president.

Pender is responsible for the prudent investment of all Association assets, which now exceed $1.8 billion. In addition, he now assumes responsibilities for the safeguarding of AAL's assets.

AAL is a fraternal benefit society which provides life, health and retirement products to Lutherans and their families nationwide. The Society's more than 1.2 million members belong to more than 5,100 local branches. Through these branches, members can participate in programs to help others, in line with AAL's motto of "common concern for human worth."

Skubish to retire from GC air board

Casmer Skubish, an inspector for the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board, announced his retirement in a letter to the City Council last week.

Skubish has been with the clean air enforcement unit here for nearly ten years. He is a former Sixth Ward alderman, a retired steelworker and a former employee of the Illinois State Department of Revenue.

His resignation will be effective March 2.

St. John Guild Valentine party

Members of St. John United Church of Christ Evening Guild attended a Valentine dinner meeting held at Charlie's Restaurant, last week.

President Doris Oliver welcomed 25 members and two guests, Lucille Schaefer and a new member Miss Jennifer Sage.

Mrs. Oliver conducted a short business session and announced a fund raising luncheon will be held at the church today.

A review of the January meeting which provided a visit to the Colonnades Nursing Home was given by Mrs. Velma Farrance, chairman of the project. She reported games were directed and refreshments served to 25 residents at the nursing home facility.

The next meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on March 5 at the church, the president noted.

Bob Hope knows just how much Red Cross helps veterans.

"If you're a veteran, the rules and regs that affect your benefits can sometimes be baffling. Where to turn for help?"

"Try Red Cross. Yes, the Red Cross."

"Last year, American Red Cross helped tens of thousands of former servicemen and their families get their educational, disability, insurance and medical benefits."

"Red Cross also helps many veterans upgrade their military discharges... and that holds the key to getting a job. Just last year, Red Cross represented more than 2100 veterans before discharge review boards."

"And discharge review for an additional 6046 veterans is in process."

"Giving a hand to veterans is another powerful reason for us to help keep Red Cross ready."

"Lend a hand."

FUTURE MET OPERA STAR? Deborah

Hightower of Collinsville, formerly of Granite City, performs her winning vocal style for judges at district Metropolitan Opera auditions held at SIUE. She and Deborah Schwab, Waynesboro, VA, an SIUC student, Bonnie Burns, St. Louis, and Norma Sitton, Billings, Mont., also an SIUC student, will advance to regional semifinals and final competition March 3 and 4 in Chicago. The top entrant there will go to national semifinals in New York April 1 and sing for the Met's general manager.

Spelling bee March 3

Plans have been completed for the third annual Granite City Elementary Spelling Bee to be held on Saturday, March 3, at Coolidge Junior High School.

During these last weeks preceding the bee, each elementary school will select a winner and runnerup in each of the three levels of participation: primary, (second and third grades), lower intermediate (fourth and fifth grades), and upper intermediate (sixth grade).

As these building winners are chosen, they will be presented a ribbon by their building principal. The building winners will compete with each other in the district Spelling Bee on March 3, at which each of the three district level winners and first runnersup will receive a trophy.

All sixth-grade building winners also are eligible to compete in a spelling bee at St. Louis later this year.

Pronouncers for the March 3 event will be Beverly Scroggins, Granite City High School South speech teacher; Carol Moore, GCIS North English teacher, and Donna Clow, department head at Coolidge.

Acting as judges for the bee will be Carol Hildebrand, Prather department head; Mike Sikora, principal at Coolidge; Charlotte Griffith, English teacher at Coolidge; L. William Fever, assistant principal at Prather; Helen Kuentner, GCIS South English department head, and Wayne Hubbard, GCIS North speech teacher.

Advisory Council

The Title I and Title VII districtwide Advisory Council of the Venice School District 3 met Tuesday at 1 p.m. in the school library.

Ila Fleig is the chairman of Title I and Charlotte Dilday is the chairman of Title VII. Present programs were discussed at the meeting. The 1979-1980 Title VII is being reviewed in Washington, D.C. The council hopes to have news concerning the status of Title VII by April.

Wins high point trophy

Julianne Marie Jasudowicz, eight-year-old baton enthusiast, captured the high point trophy in sweetheart competition held during the weekend at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

She won nine awards, including the 36-inch high point trophy and three first-place awards in modeling, hoop and baton, two firsts in team, two seconds in flag and solo, and a third in fancy strut. Her fourth place honors were in in-state and pageant competition, and she earned a second in modeling.

The second grade student at Johnson School competed with girls in the six-to-20 age category. She has been participating in contests for three and a half years under the direction of the Sharold Yount School of Baton.

She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jasudowicz of Sunny Dell Acres.

'Think small' on trash-to-energy

The Bi-State Development Agency board of directors has approved a report submitted by its solid waste consultants, Resource Systems Group of Boston, and Smith Barney, Harris Upham of New York City. The consultants advised against pursuing an original project as previously proposed by the Union Electric Co.

The original proposal was collection from individual hauling firms of 4,000 tons of solid waste daily for transportation by rail to Union Electric's Labadie plant. Once at the plant, the waste would have been processed into a synthetic boiler fuel called RDF (refuse-derived fuel) and burned to create electricity.

Consultants said the project was not "cost-effective" and could not compete with landfill costs throughout the area. High transportation costs and the availability of low-cost coal in the St. Louis area were two other factors involved in the conclusion.

The consultants said that "in most other cities, the costs per ton would be reasonably attractive," but that St. Louis area landfill disposal costs are exceptionally low by comparison.

Several other factors led the agency to authorize further study of a "smaller scale" project. Bi-State Commissioner Gerald Rimmel, chairman of the energy committee, said, "Now that we know what is not feasible, we will proceed to explore other methods which may be possible."

A "smaller scale" project would involve location of processing plants closer to the marketplace, and would shift focus from Union Electric as the primary user to providing energy to several users, thus eliminating some of the transportation costs and appealing to large industrial and institutional energy users in the central urban area.

While the authorized study will continue to analyze regionwide plans, it will emphasize implementation of a first trash-to-energy unit.

The consultants' report indicated that a series of smaller projects, built in the urban area and selling steam to industry, would be more likely to be economically sound.

It would still meet Bi-State's goals of supplying a long-range solution to the region's solid waste disposal requirements, conservation of natural resources, and protection of the environment. If the first resource recovery plant is shown to be economical by the study, it could be in operation as early as 1983.

Bi-State will mark 30 years

Although the Bi-State Transit System is only 15 years old, the Bi-State Development Agency has been serving area residents twice as long.

This year, the agency will celebrate its 30th anniversary as it continues "to help achieve regional objectives which are difficult or sometimes impossible to accomplish with private ownership or governmental units separated by state boundaries."

Established on Sept. 20, 1949, through a compact between Missouri and Illinois approved by Congress in 1950, the Bi-State Development Agency was granted wide-ranging powers and capabilities.

These powers are generally classified into two categories: ownership and operation of specific types of public works projects, and research and planning for coordinated development of the bi-state region.

According to its charter, Bi-State may acquire projects by gift, purchase or lease or may plan and construct them.

It can operate and maintain facilities it owns and can charge fees for their use, or can lease them to others for operation and maintenance.

It may also contract with municipalities or other political subdivisions for the services or use of any facility owned or operated by Bi-State.

With all of these and more powers, the agency nevertheless was slow to awaken from its "sleeping giant" image.

The problem was and is a common one — in the early years, Bi-State had no funds to implement its plans.

The basic legislation establishing the agency required preparation of a comprehensive plan for development of the metropolitan area.

This plan, prepared by Harlan Bartholomew and Associates and approved by the governors of Missouri and Illinois in January 1961, could not be implemented because there was no provision for financial resources.

The agency was able, however, to act as a sponsor or coordinator in several joint surveys during its early years.

Before the agency was a year old, the United States Public Health Service, the Missouri State Board of Health and the Illinois Sanitary Water Board asked Bi-State to act as sponsor for a survey of chemical and biological pollution of the Mississippi River in the vicinity of St. Louis.

After a report was completed in 1954, Bi-State inaugurated a program of securing voluntary cooperation of industries in the abatement of pollution through treatment of wastes before discharge into the river.

At the same time, assisted by financial support from St. Louis County, the agency completed an exhaustive study of the St. Louis County sewer problems.

The Metropolitan St. Louis Sewer District, which now has complete jurisdiction over construction and operation of sewers in a major portion of the St. Louis area, was formed as a result of the report done by the agency.

Bi-State was also asked during its first year of operation to be the sponsor for two coordinated areawide surveys of highways and expressways in the metropolitan area. Many Bi-State recommendations were accepted by local authorities and were included in subsequent construction plans.

The agency operated harbor facilities in Granite City for many years.

It took a few more years before Bi-State became involved in river development, airport facilities, bridge projects and other activities.

And Bi-State didn't become the owner and operator of the regional mass transportation system until April 1, 1963, when it acquired 15 privately-owned transit companies.

Bi-State Development has grown dramatically during its 30 years of existence. Federal matching funds and state and local aid have allowed the agency to expand its service and employ more people.

Currently, Bi-State is involved in a variety of futuristic plans, some of which may have national impact.

BAC science, math students are praised

Science and mathematics students who transferred to Illinois State University from Belleville Area College have done "exceptionally well," according to an ISU spokesman.

Although Belleville Area College students as a whole ranked no higher than other community college students, BAC transfers in chemistry had a 2.14 grade point average compared to 2.24 for other community college chemistry transfers; biological science transfers had 2.60 compared to 2.18.

Geography-geology transfers had 2.62 compared to 2.46, and math transfers had a 2.91 grade point average compared to 2.26 for all community college students. Frank Gornick, BAC director of counseling, said, "Although we take pride in the excellence of our programs, we can't take all the credit for our students' successes when they transfer."

Math and science departments in the high schools in our district are exceptionally strong. We get good material from the high schools, and we build on it. We feel that our teachers are among the best in the state, and we know that many of the high school teachers are also in that category."

Illinois State University, like all other public colleges and universities in Illinois with the exception of the University of Illinois, grants automatic junior standing to graduates of Illinois' community colleges.

Music makes the schools go around

The elementary school music program is a vital force in the educational growth of students in Granite City Community Unit School District 9.

It is the purpose of music education in the curriculum to contribute to the development of the whole child; and it is through this art that the aesthetic and intellectual growth of every child can be aided.

Because music involves both the mind and the emotions, it is considered essential in the total development of every individual.

Many activities are integrated into the music program in order to help the students understand and enjoy the music they hear, sing and create. Every child in the district has the opportunity to discover that music is a part of his or her heritage, that it is a vital part of life and that it is a means of personal expression.

In the school district every child, to the best of his or her ability, discovers how to sight-read music, how to play music on classroom instruments, how to read and play rhythm patterns, how to sing, how to write melodies and rhythms, how to listen to music, how to interpret music and how to move to music.

Performance is the "frosting on the cake" and the most easily seen and appreciated aspect of music. There have been many proud teachers and parents at the various schools as they enjoyed holiday and other public programs that were presented this school year.

The elementary school music teachers are: Miss Patricia Dineff, Lake and Niedringhaus, Mrs. Mary Jane Fester, Parkview and Frohardt; Mrs. Mildred Hediger, Nameoki and Stallings; Kenneth Jones, Maryville and Stallings; Mrs. Patricia Michaeloff, Marshall.

Miss Deborah Milton, Logan and Washington; Mrs. Mary Kaye Rogers, Wilson; Mrs. Carole Ryan, Johnson; Mrs. Mayme Schaeffer, Emerson and McKinley; Mrs. Jennie Lynn Totten, Frohardt and Webster; and Mrs. Beverlee Williams, Mitchell and Lake.

Joseph Owens is the music consultant for the district and Mrs. Patricia Michaeloff is the vocal music specialist.

LEARNING ABOUT INSTRUMENTS of orchestras in the Wilson School class of Mrs. Vivian Dine. Mrs. Mary Kaye Rogers is the music teacher.

LEARNING TO SIGHT-READ songs are four graders of Mrs. Dorothy Anderson at Logan School. Music teacher is Miss Deborah Milton.

McKINLEY SCHOOL SINGERS of Mrs. Mary Davis. The young students' music teacher is Mrs. Mayme Schaeffer.

Catholic Education Week

Next to the family . . . the school

... and the kids at Sacred Heart and St. Joseph join in the celebration by showing their teachers and friends that they care.

In observance of Catholic Education Week, parochial schools all over the area staged all sorts of events and projects.

At Sacred Heart-St. Joseph School in Granite City, the youngsters wanted to do special things for the teachers, aides and especially the sisters.

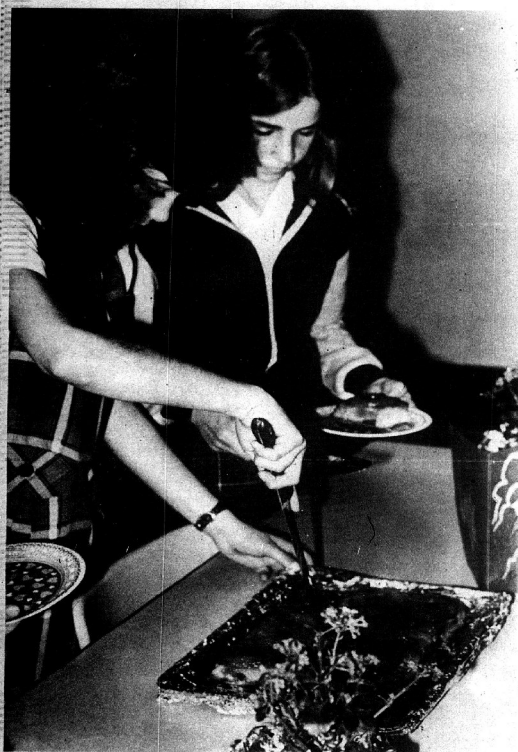

One class presented Sister Mary Ruth with a plant. Another class put on a show, with Sister Barbara providing the music. Sister Jennifer, principal, was crowned and a party was held for the senior citizen volunteers.

There were special visits by Sister Mary Lawrence, school supervisor for the Dominican Sisters, Springfield, and Father Kevin Sullivan.

An open house began the week-long celebration, held last week. A special liturgy closed the activities.

The kids enjoyed themselves and the staff benefited from the knowledge that the youngsters do indeed care.

DO THE WANT ADS MAKE YOU FEEL UNWANTED?

Let's face it, young man. It's tough to get a good job without experience or a high school diploma. If you'd like a job where you'll really feel needed, see your Army recruiter.

He's got a variety of training courses to choose from... construction, transportation, air defense artillery, you name it. If you're qualified for one of our openings, you'll get it. Guaranteed.

And you'll get paid for it, too. Today's Army starts you at $419 a month. And that's over and above the free meals, free housing, free medical and dental care, and up to 30 days paid vacation each year.

Right now, opportunities are available for both high school and non-high school grads.

Receipts prove Maeras away at time of alleged meeting here

Madison County Sheriff's Department Lieutenant Delbert Clemons may face a federal contempt of court charge after testifying Tuesday in federal court at Alton against former Madison County Sheriff John Maeras, the judge said in response to his testimony.

Clemons testified that after he led a vice raid on Myrene's Steakhouse in Alton, and arrested four persons in the early morning hours of Dec. 1, 1971, Maeras called him into the sheriff's office about 8 that morning and criticized Clemons for not informing superior officers of the upcoming raid.

Maeras' defense attorney, Bruce Cook of Belleville, displayed gasoline charge slips and motel slips signed by Maeras which show that the then sheriff was picking up a prisoner in New Mexico and actually was out of the state from Nov. 26 to Dec. 6.

"Why would you come in here and tell a deliberate lie?" Cook queried. Clemons, who had formerly insisted the meeting occurred the morning after the raid, answered, "I always thought in my mind it was the next day. Apparently, I am confused."

U.S. District Judge J. Waldo Ackerman then asked that the jury leave the room. After the jurors had been removed, Ackerman told Maeras, "If he (Maeras) hadn't happened to be out of town, your testimony could have been terribly damaging."

"Fortunately, now it's not. You were so certain. Why shouldn't I hold you in contempt?"

Clemons responded that the meeting with Maeras had been "traumatic for me," and he thought it occurred at the end of his working shift, which was from midnight to 8 a.m. "It just seemed to me it was the next morning," Clemons added.

Ackerman responded, "There is a serious question whether you are in contempt of court. I won't decide now. If you want counsel, get counsel and report back at the end of this trial."

Clemons, a veteran of 15 years with the sheriff's department, also admitted during questioning that he was among deputies who accepted payoffs from towing companies in return for calling them for towing jobs. "For a period of time, yes," he responded to Cook's question about whether he accepted any payoffs.

Prior to testifying about Maeras allegedly being critical of the raid on Myrene's, Clemons told the jury that on the night of the raid at Myrene's Steakhouse, he was a sergeant and was the watch commander on the midnight to 8 shift.

He said an off-duty officer called him from a restaurant in Alton and told him that the off-duty officer and a friend had just been solicited by a man who wanted them to go to Myrene's as customers.

Clemons said he told the officer to agree, mark his money, record the serial numbers and then enter the establishment. Clemons said he told him deputies would be outside waiting, and would wait 10 minutes after the two "customers" entered before raiding it.

The sergeant also said he called Capt. Demos Nicholas to notify him about the call and the upcoming raid and Nicholas told him to go ahead.

Clemons said the plan worked and deputies arrested Myrene Stewart, the owner, charging her with illegal sale of alcohol, pandering and keeping a house of prostitution. Two women were charged with prostitution and Mrs. Stewart's nephew, George Thornton, was charged with illegal sale of alcohol and unlawful use of a weapon, Clemons testified.

However, the next morning, he contended, Maeras called Clemons into Maeras' personal office and "wanted to know why I did not contact my superiors." Clemons said he told the sheriff he had called Capt. Nicholas and told Nicholas that "it was just a raid on a little (bawdy) house."

Clemons contended that Maeras "didn't feel that I was in trouble, and he questioned my loyalty." He said Maeras accused him of traveling with former chief deputy Robert Rizz, following the sheriff, and taking pictures. "I told him, 'I don't know what you're talking about.'"

"Clemons also said he pledged to call Maeras personally at home in the future, on such occasions, if that was what Maeras wanted."

However, on a second raid at Myrene's Steakhouse, in May 1972, he did not call Maeras. Clemons told the jury. He said that was because the May raid was ordered by the state's attorney's office and he was simply complying with a court order to raid the establishment.

Cook, in cross-examining Clemons, asked why Clemons did not tell either the FBI or a federal grand jury in Springfield that he had called Capt. Nicholas before the first raid. Clemons had given statements or testimony before both the defense attorney said.

"I didn't think of it," he responded. He said he did tell FBI agents about it in later interviews, although their reports did not reflect that.

Cook then pointed to Maeras and asked, "Is this the John Maeras you talked to Dec. 1?" The witness responded, "Yes, sir."

Cook gave him an opportunity to reconsider his answer, but Clemons insisted he had talked to Maeras Dec. 1, several hours after the first raid. The state's attorney then produced 11 receipts to show that Maeras had driven to New Mexico and back during that time and could not have been in his office Dec. 1.

In his redirect to Clemons, Cook said, "It's sure lucky for old John Maeras, isn't it, that he was out of town? Do you know what the jury would have gone home believing if he had been in town? 'If a guy had to fabricate something, he would have about a 99 percent chance of being right about the sheriff being in. Fortunately for John Maeras, he was out of town."

Cook then asked, "Do you know what it means to be 'led down the path'?" He said he gave Clemons an opportunity to change his testimony about the certainty of the Dec. 1 meeting date, adding, "I led you down the path, didn't I?"

Tuesday's testimony was the first since Friday, when the initial week of the trial was concluded.

Robin Young, 19, had testified that when she was about 11 years old, John Cooper and Ronald Grzywacz came to the Young home in Collinsville and met with her parents on a glass-enclosed porch.

She recalled her father shouting, "We won't pay," and the figure $500 being mentioned. She also remembered her father regularly sitting at the dining table to put money into envelopes on which her mother would write the word, "Man."

In cross-examination, H. Carl Runge, Cooper's attorney, noted some confusion over where Miss Young was when Grzywacz and Cooper talked to her parents. He said that during the trial, he and the state's attorney could not recall if she went to the kitchen or the bedroom after being introduced to the two men.

However, under redirect questioning by Cass Weiland, assistant U.S. attorney, she testified she was in the kitchen, adjacent to the glass-enclosed porch, for a period while her parents and the two visitors talked.

William Warfield of Collinsville, a former deputy under Maeras, testified that he had received about $7 per car towed when he called Mick's garage in Mitchell to do the towing. Payments from Micks stopped in about 1972, he said.

Warfield said he once saw Cooper at about 3 a.m. at Mick's Garage and Cooper said he was getting his car worked on because he did not like the work done at the county garage.

Warfield also testified that he was shift commander one night in 1972 when the previous shift commander ordered him to take several deputies and two assistant state's attorneys to Myrene's Steakhouse and raid it.

Assistant State's Attorneys Marshall Smith and Ben Allen joined the deputies in the raid, he said.

Immediately after raiding the establishment, Warfield called Maeras and testified that the sheriff said he knew nothing about the raid; but did not have any objections to the deputies and attorneys checking out about three other establishments later that night. He said the sheriff told him something like, "Give them hell."

Warfield said that later he was in the sheriff's office and overheard a discussion between the sheriff, Cooper and Capt. Demos Nicholas in which Nicholas "thought I was to blame for the raid and that I should have talked with the sheriff before I pulled the raid."

About a month after the raid, Warfield said, he was transferred to the day shift, transporting prisoners from the jail to the county courthouse. He resigned after an injury a short time later, he said.

Pete Klobuchar of Collinsville, a process-server with the sheriff's department, testified he was a neighbor of the Youngs before they moved to Vandalia and that during the early part of Maeras' administration, Cooper asked Klobuchar to arrange a meeting between Cooper and another man and the Youngs.

Klobuchar said he went to the Club J, told Walter Young that Cooper and another man wanted to meet with him, and then told Cooper he could meet with Young any time.

William Pullen of East Alton, operator of a Wood River service station, testified that Grzywacz and Pete Skundrich talked to him and his partner in the spring of 1971 and asked for payments to "the sheriff, instead of deputies," in return for calling tow trucks.

He said they told him, "It has always been the practice in the past to pay deputies, and that we wanted it stopped. He wanted the money to go to the sheriff, and said some were paying $10 per car."

Pullen said he was offended, refused to cooperate, and "we parted ways."

Skundrich said he was a precinct committeeman in Madison when he introduced himself, Pullen believed. Pullen said that about a month later, he saw Grzywacz at Ralph & Charlie's Restaurant in Madison and Grzywacz said the sheriff "knew why those people were there and what they wanted."

George Carroll of Godfrey testified that he ran a tavern and restaurant in Godfrey for 19 years and recalled that "five or six years ago," Cooper and a policeman, came to his tavern and asked Carroll if he wanted to operate a card game.

"I told him I wasn't interested," Carroll testified.

GC man shoots dog near home

A resident of the 2500 block of Hodges Avenue reported at 8:10 p.m. Monday that he had been chased back inside his house by three large dogs, running at large, and had later shot and killed one of the animals when they came after him a second time.

The man said he reported the initial incident to a humane officer and advised the officer that if the dogs came after him again he would shoot them.

He said he walked out of the house, stamped his foot and shouted at the animals, which were still there. One dog came at him and he shot at it with a 12 gauge shotgun. He fired a second shot and the two other dogs ran away.

The slain animal was removed later by a humane officer.
